U.S. Gives OAS $6 Million To Pay Salaries Of Those Loyal In Santo Domingo

By LOUIS UCHITELLE
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The United States gave the Organization of American States a new lever against the bankrupt Dominican junta today by making it paymaster for government employees.

OAS Secretary-General Jose A. Mora announced that Washington has given his organization $6 million to pay the salaries of government workers loyal to either the junta or rebel factions.

Mora said troops from the newly created Inter-American Force have been stationed inside the bank to prevent the junta from using the funds to pay salaries.

NO REASON GIVEN
No reason for the move was given, but it was presumably aimed at pressuring the junta into negotiating with the rebels to form a coalition government.

3 ABSENTEE BALLOTS ARE DISQUALIFIED
The Adams County commissioners and their special clerks were engaged today in tabulating 41 of the 44 absentee ballots received for the current primary elections.

Three of the ballots were voided, two because the ballots were not in sealed envelopes to guarantee anonymity of the votes and one because it was postmarked after the date of the primary.

Of the absentee ballots, 12 were from the military and 32 from civilians.

SCHOOL BOARDVOTE
Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, solicitor for the commissioners, present for the count, said that, in connection with New Oxford Area School director and school auditor, the vote as tabulated by the county will be certified to the school district. By inadvertence Bonneville and Tyrone No. 1 voters who were to have voted for the nominees for the offices did not receive their ballots. Attorney Hartman said there "is nothing the commissioners can do about it, other than certify the count as they have it. Then it is up to the school authorities. If they wish they can petition the court to have the vote declared void. Or they can accept the official count as representing the will of the people of their area. If the court rules the primary invalid insofar as it relates to the New Oxford Area Merged School District election, then, I understand, the new candidates could be appointed."

Next Friday the commissioners will conduct the annual drawing off of ties. Commissioners Clerk M. Hardy Nichols said "it looks like there will be several hundred letters to get out to those who are in ties." Most of the ties resulted when numerous names were written in for offices for which there were no candidates on the ballot. Many received only one vote.

WOMAN GUIDES PLANE TRAFFIC

MONTREAL (AP) — Nicole Viau, 25, holds down a job where one mistake would be glaringly, perhaps tragically, evident.

Miss Viau is one of Canada's five women air traffic controllers employed by the Transport Department. Two others are in Montreal, one is in Toronto and another in Vancouver.

Eight hours a day Nicole sits in the control tower at Montreal International Airport, one of Canada's busiest, helping ensure that the daily average of about 500 landings and takeoffs are made without mishap.

It's a job of constant pressures, dictated by the volume of air traffic, though sometimes relieved by the weather. "If you wake up and see the sun you know you're going to work hard that day," Miss Viau says. "If it's raining, you smile."

However, bad weather doesn't reduce air traffic as much as it is used to. Improved approach aids and increasing use of radar have changed that.

Miss Viau has worked for the Transport Department for seven years. She started as an assistant controller and after four years applied to become a controller.

Frank N. Moore told about the fighting in Fairfield as told by his mother, who had watched the battle. She was then a 16-year-old.

Martin R. Conway, National Park historian, gave a brief history of the U.S. Sixth Cavalry.

LAST CONFLICT HERE

Sent to capture a Confederate supply train on the afternoon of July 3, 1863, the U.S. Sixth Cavalry located the train about two miles west of Fairfield on the Orrtanna Rd. At the same time the U.S. unit came upon the Seventh Virginia Cavalry. The Confederates were defeated and were falling back when the Sixth Confederate Cavalry struck the flank of the Union forces. The Union group fell back into Fairfield, suffering a defeat at just about the time Pickett's forces were being defeated at Gettysburg. The U.S. Sixth Cavalry loss was 295 officers and men of whom 185 were captured. The Confederates lost 59 men. The Fairfield skirmish was actually the last major conflict of the Battle of Gettysburg.

At the meeting of the Round Table in the Fairfield Hotel following the dedication, Donald MacPhail spoke on "A Comparison of the Soldier of the Civil War and the Soldier of World War I."

MAKES COMPARISONS

Both the Union and Confederate armies started with volunteers, and ended with a draft, he noted. Most of the World War I soldiers were likewise drafted. While the Confederate and Union Armies had started with three-month enlistments, which later were changed to three years, and then "for the duration," the World War I soldier entered "for the duration." Problems were noted in equipping the Union and Confederate soldiers and the World War I soldier. The Confederate soldiers were issued boots at the start of the war "but soon got rid of them." During the Civil War steady improvement in arms manufacture occurred throughout the war, similarly, in World War I "new items were introduced practically every day."

"Hardtack and bully beef" were the staples of the World War I soldier's diet "just as they were for the Civil War soldier."

ELECT CONWAY

"There was one great problem all had in common. The Union and Confederate armies had great difficulty with the millions of members of a biting animal who lived with them. They had varied names for them. The World War I soldier called them cooties. No soldier ever hated another soldier as much as all hated that tiny biter."

Conway, who had been named vice-president a month ago, was elected president of the Round Table Thursday night when John Nickey, York, who had been named to the term, asked to be relieved of the duty.

The June 24 meeting of the Round Table will be held on the battlefield, starting at the Visitor Center. The group will make the "walking tour" of the Union center with various members giving details of fighting.

Find Girl After Half-Hour Search

Three-year-old Cindy Toot was discovered about 500 yards from her home at the Sunken Gardens Motel, east of here along the Lincoln Highway Thursday night about a half hour after Gettysburg firemen were summoned at 5:35 to help in the search.

The child had been lost for about two hours while persons in the area searched before firemen were called to assist. Firemen were going across a plowed field calling "Cindy" from time to time when Assistant Fire Chief Charles E. Kerrigan heard a tiny voice answering "mommy, mommy" some distance to his left. He followed the sound of the voice and found the child along a fence.

SUSPENSION OF LAWYER GOES TO HIGH COURT

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Supreme Court has given an advisory opinion on a nominee for judge from Northumberland County who is threatened with a six-month suspension from practicing law.

Charging that the facts leading up to the suspension were "completely uncorroborated and untrue," attorney Peter Krehel of Kulpmont asked the state's highest court to overrule action of the Northumberland County Court.

Krehel won the Democratic nomination for one of two county judgeships in the May 18 primary. Should his appeal be rejected, he could be a candidate for judge in the November election while under suspension as a lawyer.

SUSPENDED IN MARCH

Indications were that the Supreme Court would not rule on the appeal until at least September when it holds its next session in Pittsburgh. Only on rare occasions will the court hand down an opinion while not in session.

Krehel was ordered suspended March 15. He has been permitted to continue his law practice, however, pending the outcome of his appeal.

The suspension followed a recommendation of a county court-appointed board of censors composed of five lawyers who found Krehel guilty of what they termed unprofessional conduct.

CHARGED ON BRIBE

Attorney William J. Krencewicz, representing Krehel before the Supreme Court, said the action came after an Elroy Hack complained to county court that Krehel accepted a $25 bribe while a member of a board of arbitration in a damage suit brought by Hack against a Martin A. Ryan.

"If the record of this case is permitted to prevail, any lawyer could be disbarred or any judge impeached merely by one man giving uncorroborated testimony that he gave a bribe," argued Krencewicz.

Hack said he gave the money to Krehel the night of Sept. 18 in a men's room at a tavern in Sunbury. Krehel has denied receiving any money from Hack.

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas attacked bridges and government troops today along Highway 1 south of Da Nang and severed road travel between the U.S. 4th Marine Regiment at Chu Lai and the Marine headquarters at Da Nang.

One and possibly two bridges were reported partly destroyed. The fighting, which broke out at dawn, continued into the afternoon in at least one of nine areas involved.

The attacks were launched following a Viet Cong probe of Marine positions at Chu Lai, 52 miles south of Da Nang. In what was described as the biggest Viet Cong action near the new Marine beachhead, six Viet Cong were killed and one wounded Viet Cong was captured.

One Marine died and 10 were wounded in the brief fire fight. Cutting of the highway to the Chu Lai area was not considered too serious since most of the traffic is handled by helicopter.

Eisenhower To Be Cited For His "Distinguished Career As Leader Of Men"

Over 2,000 reservations to attend the fifty-fifth annual commencement of Messiah College, Grantham, Pa., have been distributed. The event, to be held Saturday morning, will have the largest attendance of any single event ever held there. Highlighting the occasion will be the granting of an honorary Doctor of Laws degree to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. This is the first honorary degree to be conferred by the college, which is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The graduation ceremonies will be held in the outdoor auditorium. Dr. D. Ray Hostetter, college president, will preside. Former President Eisenhower will "reminisce." His religious background is rooted in the Brethren in Christ group which founded Messiah College.

His grandfather and two uncles were ordained ministers of the church, and the largest cash gift ever received by Messiah College was given by his aunt and her husband, Amanda Eisenhower and Christian O. Musser, in 1940.

CITATIONS

Dr. Harold H. Engle, chairman of the college board, will read the following citation accompanying the honorary degree for Gen. Eisenhower.

"We honor him for his personal attributes as a man among men and for the achievements which have marked his distinguished career as a leader of men. As a man, he has demonstrated qualities of integrity, humility, and courage, concern for permanent values, dedication to principles of individual and social responsibility, and a

7 COUNTIANS HEAR SHUMAN

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, while speaking at a Pennsylvania industry-wide meeting at Harrisburg, said Wednesday: "The wheat certificate plan proposed by President Johnson apparently envisions U.S. consumers paying twice as much for wheat as foreign consumers."

"Under the wheat certificate plan proposed by the administration, bread prices would again be increased because processors would have to pay $1.25 processing tax for every bushel of wheat that goes into domestic food use. There is need for action to help farmers get better prices in the marketplace but it's quite another thing to ask consumers to pay higher prices, to perpetuate a program designed to keep producers dependent upon government handouts."

Mr. Shuman concluded by saying: "Farmers are wary of 30 years of government programs that have failed both to adjust production to demand and to improve family income."

A panel of leaders representing various segments of the wheat and feed grain industry in Pennsylvania expressed their concern for the type of farm programs that have been in existence and others proposed because of the adverse effects of the programs in operation. The panel members were John Frazier Jr., P. R. Markley Division of Bunge, Inc., Philadelphia; Donald Parke, of the Pennsylvania Millers and Feed Dealers Association, Ephrata; Eugene G. Myer, manager of Lehmaste Elevator Company, Lehmaste; Mrs. Marian Granger, women's director of WIBF-TV, Jenkintown, representing the consumer, and Ward Lamm, Sinking Spring, a wheat farmer.

Among the 135 persons attending were John R. Pitzer, Donald Horst, Charles Pitzer and Glenn A. Slaybaugh, all of Upper Adams; E. A. Rebert, Littlestown; Mrs. Francis Schultz, Fairfield, and Mrs. Calvin Bream, Gettysburg R. 3.

regard for matters of the spirit in personal and community life. As a leader of men, he has manifested the ability to penetrate to the basic issues in the problems confronting mankind and to chart the quest for their resolution.

"We honor him for twice accepting the weighty responsibilities of national leadership as President of the United States. As our national leader, he ably strove for the enlargement of freedom and for the establishment of peace with justice. We respect him for the consistent dedication to human dignity, personal worth, and God-given responsibility which has marked his conduct in the highest national office and in the broader field of human relations.

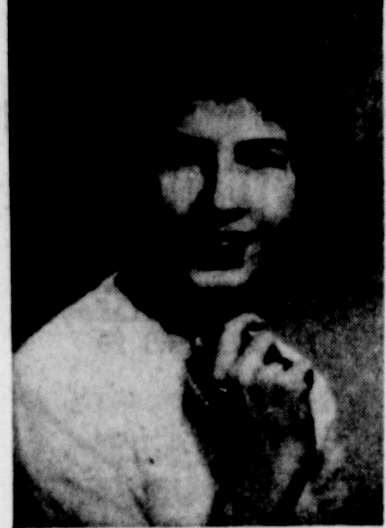

"We recognize, too, a bond of heritage which lends special significance to his presence on our campus. His early life was nurtured by the same cultural roots which produced much that is Messiah College. In light of this common heritage, and in recognition of his historic achievements and his personal character, we are highly privileged to honor President Dwight D. Eisenhower."

PLAN SPECIAL BONUS TO LURE MEN INTO ARMY

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is proposing a special bonus to lure men with critical skills into re-enlisting in the armed services.

The bonus system, recommended to Congress in a little-noticed section of a pay-increase bill, could give some corporals and specialists as much as $6,300, depending on the importance of their skills.

Two years ago, Congress ignored a similar Defense Department proposal.

However, top officials hope the Senate and House will be more receptive this time because of the increasing difficulty in holding trained men.

EXTEND SERVICE

The plight of the Navy was pointed up several weeks ago when Secretary Paul H. Nitze appealed to officers and men whose active-duty tours were running out to extend their service three or six months. Navy officials said it is too early to measure the response to Nitze's plea.

Defense Department studies have listed inadequate pay as a major factor in the inability to keep men trained in electronics and other important skills.

The Defense Department already has a re-enlistment bonus system in effect. The new special system aimed at the highly skilled would be superimposed on it.

Under the standard system, a man completing his first enlistment and signing up for another hitch is entitled to one month's pay multiplied by the number of years of re-enlistment.

6 MONTHS BONUS

Thus, a man who signed up for an additional six-year hitch would get a bonus of six months' pay.

On later enlistments, the bonus would be smaller. An absolute limit of $2,000 is applied to such standard bonuses over a 20-year career.

The new proposal would apply only to the first re-enlistment.

It would authorize a bonus four times the standard re-enlistment bonus, in addition to the regular bonus.

In this case, a man with an important skill would get a payment equal to five months' pay multiplied by the number of years of his new enlistment — a maximum of 30 extra months' pay.

Today's Talk

WISFUL THINKING
I believe we are all, at times, addicted to wishful thinking — regretting past mistakes or speculating upon things in the future that may come to pass only in our fancy and imagination.

It is all very well to have hope and to expect things to come out all right even though they do not, but we cannot afford to bank our all on wishful thinking. I believe the simplest and most practical of all philosophies is to take things in their stride, to leave all worry strictly alone, and to cultivate great faith in one's self, one's fellow man, and God.

There is a world of difference between wishful thinking and intelligent planning. The one who plans measures out of his facts and is realistic. He deals with constructive ideas. Without doing anything but wishful thinking, is it any wonder that people get unhappy over things not coming their way when they have done nothing to bring about a happy result?

The laws of success and happiness do not deviate, and it is essential that they be obeyed. Too many times we just brush them aside and make excuses, but these excuses do not stand up. We say: "Oh, if I hadn't done this and so," or, "If things had only been different." It's this flimsy, wishful thinking that keeps many a one from his goal.

We get very little more — if anything — beyond what we work for and justly earn. We may have our defeats, our failures, and our disappointments, but they all contribute to our sum total in character and earn us ruggedness and self-respect. This imagination of ours was given to us for better purpose than for chasing rainbows or for dealing in vain regrets.

Wishful thinkers usually have the equipment for success but don't think they have to use it. They think "something will turn up," as Mearow was always saying. But things just do not turn up our way without some effort on our part, and it is best they don't. Even the dumb beasts and fowl of the air have a plan of life. No wishful thinking for them!

FLOWERS AND PEOPLE
The flowers are people in disguise. The orchids are the proud. So haughty they, of them I'd say: They scorn the common crowd. The single rose upon a stem is beautiful to see, But every rose the garden grows Seems friendlier to me.

The sunflower tall of stature stands Arrayed in bronze and gold. A doorman he, who waits to see And welcome young or old. The little flowers are children gay.

Some love to climb the wall, And there are those who, I suppose, Prefer to creep and crawl.

Oh, there is beauty that is rare And costly to maintain; But there is grace, though common place, Unspoiled by motives vain. And that may be why daisies grow Within the reach of all. Good neighbors they, who seem to say: "We're glad to have you call."

FAIL TO OUST SCHOOL CHIEF

CHICAGO (AP) — Efforts by civil rights groups to force the ouster of Dr. Benjamin C. Willis as superintendent of Chicago's public schools have ended in failure.

The Board of Education voted 7-4 Thursday to rehire him until his 65th birthday — on Dec. 23, 1966.

The board — under pressure from groups both favoring and opposing Willis — made its decision during a five-hour closed meeting. Willis was present for the final two hours. He will continue to receive $48,500 a year under the contract, effective Sept. 1.

There had been published reports that the board had decided informally not to renew Willis' contract. Civil rights groups had accused him of failing to foster school integration.

SPACE FEVER GRIPPING 3 TV NETWORKS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The three major television networks, once again, are gripped with space fever, a competitive disease requiring each sufferer to try to outdo the others in covering the journeys of the astronauts.

The four-day Gemini shot is scheduled for next Thursday morning and the television audience will receive its briefings earlier in special programs of all networks. NBC's "G-T4 Preview" will come on Tuesday night (9-10 EDT) while CBS' "Gemini Preview" follows on Wednesday night (8-8:30 EDT) as does ABC's "Preview" on its "Scope" program (10:30-11).

On launch day, all networks will start their coverage at 7 a.m., about two hours before the planned take-off.

PRESTIGE OPERATIONS
It is expected that all of the networks will stay with the story at least until 11 a.m., and longer if circumstances warrant. ABC, for instance, does not know — and will not — whether it will stay on the story for one orbit or three before returning to regular programming.

As usual, basic coverage of the launching is a prestige operation by the three networks, with each assigning its top news staff men to reporting the running story and filling in the dull moments with assorted interviews and demonstrations. NBC will show the takeoff in color.

TO BE AT RECOVERY
Once the Gemini-Titan mission is whirling around the globe, all networks plan hourly reports on its progress, plus more thorough updating during all news programs. In addition, each network will have a 15-minute special program nightly from 11:15 to 11:30 (EDT).

For the first time, a TV pool representative will be permitted to travel in the rescue helicopter when it goes to the astronauts after the Monday morning splashdown, so recovery pictures will be received sooner than before.

State Will Probe $300,000 Blaze

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The state Department of Welfare is scheduled to begin a probe to determine the cause of a fire that destroyed the 1,000 seat auditorium at Norristown State Hospital Thursday, causing an estimated $300,000 damage.

Assistant hospital superintendent Dr. Claude H. Butler announced the investigation.

Dr. Carmela De Rivas, the hospital's superintendent, said the fire had apparently been smoldering for some time before it was discovered. An employee at the hospital reported hearing an explosion before the fire broke out.

Dr. De Rivas said the blaze destroyed the contents of the building, including a $30,000 pipe organ, professional motion picture projectors, stage equipment, scenery and curtains.

Seven U.S. Presidents were born in Ohio.

DEAN CHANCE LOSES THIRD IN ROW; YANKS TAGGED AGAIN

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Did somebody ask what was wrong with Dean Chance?

It's obvious. Just a serious case of outs. He can't seem to get many.

Chance, the Cy Young Award winner last season, continued his 1965 slide Thursday, absorbing his worst pummeling in two seasons as Washington battered Los Angeles 9-6.

It was the fourth straight loss for Chance in just over two weeks and left the Angel swiftly with an inflated 4.72 earned-run average.

WORST IN TWO YEARS

The only thing swift about Chance against the Senators was the time it took Washington to knock him out. The Senators assaulted him for seven runs and eight hits in 2 2/3 innings.

You have to go back to May 12, 1963, for a similar assault on Chance. That day he gave up five runs in 1 1/3 innings against the White Sox.

Chance, who said he was worried after dropping his third straight last week, must be terrified today following his nightmarish encounter with the Senators.

TWINS LOSE LEAD

Elsewhere in the American League, Boston dropped Minnesota out of first place, blanking the Twins 2-0 and Detroit tagged New York 4-1.

Pittsburgh's game at Philadelphia was postponed by rain in the National League and Kansas City's visit to Baltimore was rained out in the AL.

Chance has given 32 earned runs in his 11 appearances and has barely resembled the 20-9 pitcher he was a year ago. Dean started with three straight victories but has failed to win in his last five starts.

FORD QUITS EARLY

A two-run triple by relief pitcher Marshall Bridges knocked Chance out in the third as the Senators exploded for six runs. Joe Cunningham and Frank Howard homered for Washington with Howard's shot landing off the mezzanine 460 feet from home plate in D.C. Stadium.

Whitey Ford, who had shut out the Senators for New York in his last start, quit after just one inning against the Tigers, saying simply that "he didn't have it."

If Ford didn't have it, Detroit's Joe Sparma sure did. The young right-hander drove in two runs with a double and limited the Yankees to five hits with Roger Maris' two-out homer in the ninth spoiling the shutout bid.

JAM IN 9TH

The Twins, who had eight homers and two victories in their first two games against the Red Sox in Fenway Park, ran into Dave Morehead. The youngster limited the heavy-hitting Twins to three hits until the ninth inning but got into a jam by loading the bases on three walks after striking out Harmon Killebrew to open the inning.

Dick Radatz, ineffective in relief so far this season, lumbered out of the Boston bullpen and ended the threat by fanning pinch-hitters Don Mincher and Sandy Valdespino.

All bodies moving through air create disturbances which radiate outward at the speed of sound. However, a supersonic plane proceeds through the air faster than the disturbances it is creating, and the result is the formation of shock waves.

Explosion Cancels Planned Launching

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — An explosion two minutes after launch ruined Air Force plans to send a plastic facsimile of a space-man's torso into space aboard an Atlas missile.

The ICBM and its dummy passenger plunged into the ocean west of this seaside missile facility. It was a mass of flaming wreckage.

The Air Force said cause of the explosion — which occurred at 7:55 p.m. Thursday — had not been determined.

The dummy carried instruments to measure space radiation at various depths of the body. The Air Force has been concerned about possible radiation hazards to astronauts who will spend long periods in proposed manned orbiting laboratories.

Wedding

Ashbaugh-Griffith
Miss Audrey Joy Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Griffith, Fern Park, Fla., and Charles Bennett Ashbaugh, son of Mrs. Charles M. Ashbaugh and the late Mr. Ashbaugh, Gettysburg R. 6, were married recently in the Casselberry, Fla., Community Methodist Church. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Delmas Copeland in a candle-light service.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Ronald Shannon, matron of honor, and Miss Carol Highsmith and Miss Jacki Miner, bridesmaids. Patty Jane Pyle was the flower girl.

John Kerrigan, Gettysburg, was the best man for his cousin. Ushers were Barry and Howard Griffith, brothers of the bride.

HOLD RECEPTION

A reception was held in the church annex after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Daytona Beach.

The bridegroom was graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1962 and is serving a four-year enlistment in the Air Force. He is stationed at Glasgow AFB, Mont.

The newlyweds were guests of honor Sunday afternoon at a family reception at the home of the bridegroom's mother. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leidigh, Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Peters, Mrs. Kenneth Appler and son, Kenneth, and Mrs. John Dennis and son, John Jr., Gary and Greg; Edward Kerrigan and sons, John and Joseph, Miss Betty Arnsberger; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kerrigan and children, Ronnie, Sharon, Susan and Joyce; Mrs. Jean Bowers, Mrs. Carl Fitzwater and Mrs. Bruce Gorman.

Airman and Mrs. Ashbaugh left Wednesday morning for Glasgow, Mont.

"They met at the same place," an eyewitness said. The helicopters collided about 50 feet up. One burst into flames. The other appeared to break up in the air, then caught fire.

On May 16 a series of explosions smashed through lines of U.S. and Vietnamese bombers at the other side of the Bien Hoa base, killing 26 Americans and injuring more than 100. U.S. officials said that also was an accident, but an investigation is still under way.

FOYT, CLARK AND GURNEY IN 1ST ROW FOR BIG 500

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Mr. James Clark Jr., O.B.E., a gentleman farmer of Duns, Scotland, and A. J. Foyt Jr., one of America's most distinguished high school dropouts, will start hub-to-hub in the 49th 500-mile Memorial Day auto race Monday.

It will be a head-on clash of the top men in two fields — Clark, 29, of the world road racing circuit, Foyt, 30, of the U.S. Auto Club's closed courses.

Clark made the Order of the British Empire on the queen's last birthday honors list. All Foyt made was a quarter million dollars last year.

STRONG CONTENDER

Beside them in the first row, earned by posting best speeds in two weekends of record-cracking time trials, will be handsome Dan Gurney, 34, international competitor from Costa Mesa, Calif.

Gurney not only is a strong contender but also is godfather of the three British-American hybrid cars which will lead the 33-car running start about 11 a.m., EST, Monday.

He promoted the original meeting of Colin Chapman of London, builder of the Lotus chassis, and Ford Motor Co. engineers, who provided a special V-8 engine.

SOME NEWCOMERS

The winner of the half-million-dollar race has come from the first two rows in four of the last five years. Foyt won from a fifth place start last year and from seventh in 1961.

Winner Rodger Ward, who missed the program this time, started second in 1962 and third in 1960.

Parnelli Jones, who will start fifth or middle of the second row this time, both started and finished in the first spot in 1963. He will sit between two outstanding newcomers Monday — Mario Andretti, native of Italy and now living in Nazareth, Pa., and Billy Foster of Victoria, B.C.

CLOSE CONTENDERS

The track's 10-mile qualifying record was bettered by Andretti, Clark and Foyt in the time trials but Foyt got it last at 161.233 m.p.h. Only the Scot and the USAC champion have ever turned laps over 160 at the 2 1/2-mile speedway.

Clark, the 1963 world Grand Prix champion and No. 3 in the standings last year, finished only 33.84 seconds behind Jones in the controversial '63 Indianapolis race. Chapman tried to have Jones flagged off the course for spraying oil but officials refused.

WITHDRAW 1,700

President Johnson announced that he is issuing orders to withdraw 1,700 more U.S. troops from the Dominican Republic. Johnson said in an address prepared for commencement exercises at Baylor University in Waco, Tex., that these are in addition to the 1,600 U.S. troops who have been withdrawn over the past two days.

The USS Okinawa sailed for an undisclosed U.S. port Wednesday with more than 1,000 members of the 6th Marine Division who had been held in reserve for Dominican duty if needed. These troops had not debarked and were not part of the more than 21,000 U.S. Marines and paratroops on Dominican soil.

The inter-American contingent of the force created by the OAS to restore peace in the Caribbean republic has grown to 1,042 troops. They include 612 Brazilians, 250 Hondurans, 159 Nicaraguans and 21 Costa Ricans.

ILLINOIS ENDS RED HEARINGS, 38 ARRESTED

By EARL AYKROID

CHICAGO (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities has concluded three days of hearings on communism in Illinois, marked by an abundance of demonstrations and a lack of testimony.

Only two witnesses, both FBI informers, testified. Nine others pleaded constitutional protection against testifying or walked out of the hearing room.

During the final day of hearings Thursday, police and federal marshals arrested 38 demonstrators, some for singing in the hearing room, others for raising a commotion outside the building. Two demonstrators suffered head cuts trying to break through police lines.

Rep. Edwin E. Willis, D-La., committee chairman, said the committee had received a rounded picture of Communist activities.

ADDITIONAL EVIDENCE

Willis said the committee had acquired additional information of Communist operations among youths and peace groups and of agitation in the housing field and in civil rights groups.

Willis said committee contempt action would be recommended against two witnesses who walked out Thursday after refusing to testify.

One of the two witnesses, Dr. Jeremiah Stamler, 45, prominent heart disease specialist, was characterized by the committee counsel as "one of those in charge of setting up the Communist party underground" in the early 1950s.

REFUSE TESTIMONY

The committee counsel, Alfred M. Nittie, raised the point while questioning another witness, Laura Bough, 34, of San Francisco. She refused to answer.

When Dr. Stamler went on the witness stand, he gave his name and address, but refused further testimony.

An assistant to Dr. Stamler in the research division of the Chicago Board of Health, Yolanda Hall, also walked out after declining to answer questions.

"I am now and always have been a loyal American citizen," she said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Yes, Virginia, that was a right-hand punch that Cassius Clay used to send Sonny Liston down to the deck for keeps.

We saw the punch at the ring-side at Lewiston, Maine, Tuesday night, and we saw it again on slow-motion movies at a studio Thursday night.

Now the way Cassius tells it, Sonny was coming in to him and the punch had the impact of "two cars colliding at 50 miles an hour."

AS WE SAW IT

The way we saw it, right against the ring at Lewiston, and twice in the studio, Clay landed a flicking punch that traveled about six inches.

Sonny's head shook a little and then he fell on the canvas as if he had been hit with a hammer.

This either rates young Cassius with the greatest six-inch hitters of all time or relegates the once-fearsome Liston into the glass-chin class with Floyd Patterson.

Patterson is the two-time heavyweight champion who fell before Liston in 2:06 and 2:10 of the first round and who is now seeking a shot at Clay.

IT WAS AMAZING

It was amazing to anyone who has seen Liston in action that he should be felled for 17 seconds or so by such a seemingly light blow from Clay.

Liston never had been floored before. Marty Marshall had busted his jaw in 1954, and Liston kept on his feet and fought back in his only defeat until he met the dancing and prancing Clay.

He was nailed on the jaw by the pistol-packing Cleveland Williams, probably the hardest-hitting heavyweight in the last 10 years, and went on to flatten the china-chinned Texan in three and two rounds.

LOOKED ABOUT 51

It could be that old age finally caught up to Liston. He is listed as 31, but he looked about 51 at the weigh-in for the Tuesday fight. He had the same strange look in his eyes that Jersey Joe Walcott had at the weigh-in of his second fight with Rocky Marciano.

Walcott went out in the first round, too.

They both appeared to be guys heading for their last meal before the execution.

SCHOFIELD'S BAT BIG HELP TO GIANTS AS REDS TUMBLE

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Shortstop Dick Schofield, the newest member of the Giants, was telling about shopping for a place to live in San Francisco.

"A lady showed me a place and she wanted $700 a month," he said.

"She must think I'm Willie Mays."

Maybe the lady was doing him a favor. Mays is hitting .368. But Schofield is hitting .389 for the Giants.

DODGERS EDGE RAVES

Schofield, who wound up with San Francisco in a shortstop swap that sent Jose Pagan to Pittsburgh, hit safely in his fifth consecutive game for the Giants Thursday, driving in three runs with a double and a single in a 9-2 victory over Cincinnati.

The 30-year-old switch hitter now has stroked seven hits, including three doubles, in 18 at-bats for the Giants. Pagan, who was hitting .205 when he was traded, has yet to play for the Pirates.

Elsewhere in the National League, the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers edged Milwaukee 3-2, Houston whipped St. Louis 6-1 and the New York Mets outlasted the Chicago Cubs 8-5. The Pittsburgh-Philadelphia game was rained out.

WIN IN NINTH

Schofield started his performance when he drew a walk in the third inning and scored on singles by Jesus Alou and Willie McCovey, putting the Giants ahead to stay 2-1. He then slapped a two-run single in a three-run fourth-inning uprising and ended the scoring with a run-producing double in the eighth.

The Dodgers won it in the ninth as Willie Davis singled, moved to third on an intentional walk and Jim Lefebvre's infield hit and scored when Denny Lemaster issued a walk to pinch-hitter Al Ferrara.

Lemaster, now 2-5, locked in a pitching duel with Johnny Podres, 3-0, took a four-hour rest in the ninth.

ASTROS DECIDE EARLY

The Astros put it out of reach against the Cardinals in the first two innings, scoring three runs with only two hits off Ray Washburn.

Dick Groat's throwing error on an attempted inning-ending doubleplay in the second inning let in two runs after Houston had scored in the first when Eddie Kasko doubled and came around on an infield out and Lee Maye's sacrifice fly.

Battery Cell Trouble May Delay Gemini

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A bad battery cell today forced postponement of a practice flight for next week's orbital mission by astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White. Officials said there was a possibility the trouble could delay the June 3 launching.

Mission director Christopher C. Kraft Jr., said a decision whether to postpone the astronauts' trip would be made late Saturday or Sunday after the battery had been changed and several evaluation tests had been made.

HAD REHEARSAL

The battery problem turned up today shortly after McDivitt and White began running through a rehearsal for their four-day orbital trip.

The battery is located in an equipment section attached to the base of the Gemini 4 spacecraft. It is one of six similar batteries which provide power to vehicle systems during flight.

Kraft said: "We could fly the entire Gemini 4 mission despite the loss of one battery cell. But we would rather change the battery."

To do this, the spacecraft will have to be lifted a few feet above the Titan 2 rocket to which it has been mated for several weeks.

REPLACE TONIGHT

"This will require disconnecting several bolts and electrical connections," Kraft said that it was hoped that the battery could be replaced tonight and the simulated flight rescheduled Saturday.

"Then," he said, "we will re-evaluate the remaining schedule time for the spacecraft, the launch vehicle, the Mission Control Center in Houston and the world network and support requirements."

"Subsequent to the accomplishment of these tests, we will determine if we can meet the present scheduled June 3 date or whether some additional time may be needed."

EXTRA TIME

Officials said there is some extra time in the programming that might enable them to meet the June 3 launch date.

They said the simulated flight that was called off today originally had not been scheduled until Monday.

McDivitt and White, both Air Force majors, are to take the Gemini 4 spacecraft aloft for 97 hours and 50 minutes, the longest man-in-space flight yet scheduled by the United States.

Early in the flight, White is to emerge from the orbiting capsule and float in space, at the end of a tether, for about 12 minutes.

The primary purpose of the flight will be to determine how well the astronauts and spacecraft systems will stand long exposure to space weightlessness.

During the simulated mission today, McDivitt and White were to sit in a spacecraft simulator and run through everything they are to do from time the countdown reached 30 minutes and then run through procedures for the 6 minutes of Titan 2-powered flight.

After that they were to practice some of the highlights of the flight.

200 Miners Are Killed In Pre-Dawn Explosion

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A tremendous pre-dawn explosion ripped through a coal mine near the eastern Indian town of Dhanbad today, killing 200 miners and killing or trapping perhaps 200 more.

The Ministry of Mines in New Delhi gave the figure of 200 known killed and said the death toll might reach 400.

Reports from the scene said the force of the explosion was so great that a blast shot up the mine shaft and killed men working on the surface.

DOUBLE SHIFTS

One Indian newsmen at Dhanbad said an engine room and nearby office on the surface had been devastated by the blast.

The ministry said the explosion occurred at the worst possible moment—at shift changing time, when the number of miners underground was double a normal shift.

Ministry officials said indications were that coal dust was responsible for the explosion.

Coal dust can gather in explosive quantities in mines, even hanging suspended in the air. Under the right conditions, a spark can set off an explosion.

20,000 TONS

The mine is part of the Bokaro Ramgarh group. It produces about 20,000 tons of coal annually. The coal is used as fuel for the Bokaro steel mill which the Russians built for India after the United States withdrew its offer of aid.

The mine is in Bihar State, one of India's most underdeveloped. Dhanbad is 225 miles northwest of Calcutta. Its communications with the outside world are poor.

LBJ SPEAKS AT EXERCISES AT BAYLOR U.

WACO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson announced today he is issuing orders to withdraw 1,700 American military men from the Dominican Republic.

But he warned at the same time that in the hemisphere "we can expect more efforts at triumph by terror and conquest through chaos." And he called for "new international machinery geared to meet fast-moving events."

In an address prepared for commencement exercises at Baylor University — once headed by his great grandfather George Washington Baines — Johnson said, "When forces of freedom move slowly — whether on political, economic or military fronts — the forces of slavery and subversion move rapidly and decisively."

LEARNS LESSON

The President said that one of the lessons learned during the past four weeks in the Dominican Republic is that "it is clear that we need new international machinery geared to meet fast-moving events."

"When hours can decide the fate of generations, the moment of decision must become the moment of action," he added.

The 1,700 troops the President said are being withdrawn are in addition to 1,600 he said have been withdrawn over the past two days.

And Johnson said he has instructed Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer, commander of U.S. forces in the Dominican Republic, "to discuss possible further withdrawals" with Gen. Hugo Panasco Alvim of Brazil, commander of the Organization of American States forces in the revolt-torn Caribbean country.

QUICK ACTION

Johnson said the necessity for quick action is one of "the new realities" made apparent by the Dominican situation.

The President has been criticized in some quarters for not advising other hemisphere nations before announcing his decision April 28 to send military forces to the Dominican Republic.

Today, in discussing the Communist threat within the hemisphere, Johnson said:

"We know that when a Communist group seeks to exploit misery, the entire free inter-American system is put in deadly danger. We also know that these dangers can be found today in many of our lands. There is no trouble anywhere these evil forces will not try to turn to their advantage. We can expect more efforts at triumph by terror and conquest through chaos."

Thousands Of Vietnamese Will Be Disfigured Due To Gunshot, Burn Wounds

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of South Vietnamese are so badly disfigured by gunshot and burn wounds they'll never be able to lead useful lives, says an American plastic surgeon who recently returned from the stricken land.

Only four Vietnamese plastic surgeons are available in that country of 14 million people, a severe shortage that represents a national tragedy, said Dr. Richard B. Stark, chief of plastic surgery at St. Luke's Hospital, New York.

STAGGERING TASK

Stark returned recently from Saigon after spending a month training and assisting the four Vietnamese plastic surgeons who face, he said, a staggering task of treating casualty cases that includes civilians and soldiers. Stark was an emissary of MEDICO, a nongovernmental medical group that provides aid in underprivileged areas of the world.

"Many of them (the victims) need 40 to 50 operations in order to be salvaged," said the doctor in a report to MEDICO. The report was made available to a reporter by CARE Inc., which is holding a world conference here. MEDICO is a service of CARE.

15-YEAR TASK

"Based on U.S. experiences in World War II and the Korean War," the report said, "it would take 15 years to perform the amount of reconstructive surgery needed to restore these people."

"MEDICO has made an important first step in tackling the problem," he said, adding that he and seven other American plastic surgeons lectured and operated under a program "calculated to upgrade the Vietnamese surgeons."

But plastic surgery is not the only medical deficiency in the area, he said.

"South Viet Nam," Stark said, "is a medical jungle. Statistics tell just part of the story. ONLY 700 M.D.'S

"There are only 700 physicians in the entire country.

However, 400 of these are serving up to 10 years in the armed forces. That leaves 300 physicians who must care for the civilian population of 14 million."

The doctor said a new phase of the plastic surgery and other surgery training program is under way with the cooperation of St. Luke's Hospital.

"It is designed," he said, "to pave the way for Vietnamese surgeons to train in U.S. hospitals under approved internship and residency programs."

ISRAELI RAIDS DESTROY FUEL BASE IN JORDAN

By ERIC GOTTGETREU

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli paratroopers and infantrymen made three raids into neighboring Jordan Thursday night and claimed destruction of a fuel depot and six buildings used as bases for sabotage raids on Israel.

A Jordanian military spokesman said the Israelis, in blowing up two farmhouses, killed two farmers and two children and injured four other farmers. The Israelis said they made sure all the buildings were uninhabited before destroying them.

GRENADE EXPLODES

An Israeli communique said seven Israeli soldiers were injured, four seriously, when a grenade exploded accidentally as they were returning to Israel.

The Jordanian spokesman said Jordanian forces clashed with two of the Israeli patrols, injuring the commander of one of them. Neither side reported any Jordanian military casualties.

The Jordan government said it reported the attacks to the Arab Joint Supreme Command, the current Cairo meeting of the Arab premiers and the U.N. Security Council. It also called for an urgent meeting of the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission in Jerusalem.

NO RETALIATION

The spokesman said Jordan would not retaliate for the raids because it had previously told the Arab command in Cairo it would retaliate to an Israeli attack only in accordance with the unified command's plans, not on its own.

He added that the Jordanian

NEW DISPUTE BETWEEN TWO PA. SENATORS

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

AP Regional Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., disputed today a contention of his Democratic colleague, Sen. Joseph S. Clark, that Pennsylvania is a backward state in solving its unemployment problems.

In a letter to Clark, Scott said Pennsylvania has pulled itself up by its bootstraps "under the guidance of a first-rate governor" and has far outstripped the national prosperity trend.

He agreed with Clark, however, that the state can't afford to be complacent until everyone seeking work is given a job opportunity.

REPLY TO LETTER

His letter was in reply to one sent by Clark May 12 to members of the state planning board in which he said the nation is growing five times faster than Pennsylvania which isn't doing enough to pull itself up by the bootstraps.

Clark urged the planning board and all Democratic state legislators to exert more effort to solve the state's unemployment problems. Clark called a dream a recent remark by Gov. William W. Scranton that bad times were over for the state.

Despite some improvement, Clark said, 30 areas of the state had unemployment rates higher than the national average of 4.9 per cent of the total labor force.

Scott said, however, that Clark failed to note the "vast improvement" these areas have made since Scranton took office in January 1963.

TWO SURVIVE PLAYOFF TEST

SHIPPENSBURG, Pa. (AP) —Glassboro State (NJ) and Danbury State (Conn) were all that was left today of five small college baseball teams vying for a berth in the NAIA World Series.

Glassboro gained the finals of the Area 8 playoffs Thursday by trouncing Bloomsburg State (Pa.), 11-1, in a game that was halted in the sixth inning because of rain.

Wet grounds forced postponement of the finals, which also were to have been played Thursday. Once beaten Glassboro needs to beat undefeated Danbury twice in the double elimination tournament to represent the area at the world series next week in Kansas City, Mo.

In Thursday's action, Glassboro pounded Bloomsburg with 10 hits, including a home run and five triples. Bloomsburg had only one hit, a single in the fourth inning by Ron Kirk, who also scored his team's lone run.

Defending national champion West Liberty State (W. Va.) and Slippery Rock State (Pa.) were eliminated in the first day of play.

2 ESCAPEES HELD IN N.J.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Two prison escapees were being held for Pennsylvania authorities today after they waived extradition in Municipal Court.

The convicts, Robert Q. Seidel 25, of Reading, Pa., and George Hughes, 22, of Hopewell, Pa., were accused of kidnapping three men during their two days of freedom.

They were recaptured Thursday on the second floor of a midcity building after, police said, their third victim bolted down a staircase and into the arms of policemen who had responded to a report of a burglary.

Police quoted Richard Palcak, 21, of Reading, Pa., as saying he was abducted by the two men in Reading Wednesday night and forced to drive to Newark. Police said the pair also were accused of abducting two Penn State students on Tuesday.

Seidel and Hughes escaped from the Rockview Penitentiary in Bellefonte, Pa., while on a rock-clearing detail outside the prison walls, police said. Both were serving terms for burglary.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Marjorie Ludwigen, pioneer aviatrix and lieutenant colonel in the Air Force in World War II, died Wednesday. Miss Ludwigen was one of the first women to hold a commercial pilot's license.

'FUN' PROGRAM FOR COMMUNITY CLUBWOMEN; HOLD ELECTION

The program at the May meeting of the Woman's Community Club of Littlestown and vicinity, which preceded the business, was designed for fun.

The annual election of officers was held during the business session and Mrs. Emerson F. Muller was chosen as president for the next year.

Mrs. Carroll Arter read some grade school poetry after which Miss Hilda, the club president, as a school ma'am from little red schoolhouse days, rang the school bell and called her class to order.

Her "children" were members of the club, unusually unruly because it was the last day of school but willing to stay a piece before school let out. A former teacher visiting the class was Mrs. Mervin Weikert, dressed as in days of yore.

Participating as the class members were Miss A. Marie Budde, who sang a song; Mrs. Charles W. Weikert, a poem; Mrs. Bernard M. Selby, who wound up on the dunce stool; Mrs. C. Donald Bowser, who recited; Mrs. Leonard L. Potter and Mrs. Rebecca Ealy, a playlet; Mrs. Paul E. Altoff, a boy in an all-girls' school, responsible for an excessive amount of mischief, and undiscovered until he spoke a "piece." The classroom scene also included two group songs, off key and a backwards spelling bee. The program was in charge of the fine arts department, Miss Malva A. Duttera, chairman.

VOTE DONATIONS

The business was conducted by Mrs. Leroy W. Bish, president. Donations were voted to the local Brownie troops for their fly-up ceremony expenses; the Girl Scouts for the court of awards; the Boy Scouts, Red Cross and Crippled Children. Thank you notes were read by Mrs. George C. Dehoff, chairman of the cheer committee. Mrs. Bernard Selby gave a financial report on the club card party, the most successful to date, and she thanked those who helped and those who patronized this fund raising affair.

The club will be represented in the annual Memorial Day parade on Saturday. Mrs. Atlee F. Rebert told about the flea market to be held in Hanover on Saturday and invited members who have their bicentennial dresses to make an appearance to help publicize the Littlestown bicentennial. The affair will be held from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. in Wirt Park. A table will be staffed and bicentennial book orders will be taken. Mrs. John L. Redding is in charge of the dust caps and badges for the bicentennial belles within the club if anyone has not yet purchased theirs. It was voted to enter a float in the bicentennial parade on August 7 and the committee for this project includes Mrs. Atlee F. Rebert, Mrs. Charles W. Weikert, Mrs. Malcolm Shadle, Mrs. C. Donald Bowser, Mrs. J. Harvey Petty, John and Mrs. Paul E. Altoff, with all members of the club available to assist.

PLAN TRIP TO FAIR

Mrs. Carrie Strine reported on the World's Fair three-day bus trip for the club members, those taking the trip will leave at 6 a.m. on Tuesday, June 15, from the Eagles parking lot. Two buses have been chartered.

Memorial Day, or Decoration Day, was originally observed to honor soldiers killed in the American Civil War. Today it honors all those who fell in defense of the republic.

The American practice of burying its military dead in a proper and honorable manner is without precedent in history except, perhaps, the ancient Greek city-states which paid signal honors to their citizen soldiers slain in battle.

American military burial practices may be partially attributed to the extraordinary conditions once encountered by the regular military establishment on the Indian border. The post commanders in those days were compelled to bury all the dead of their garrison communities.

On April 16, 1862, Congress authorized the president to purchase ground to be used as a national cemetery. This led to the establishment in 1864 of Arlington National Cemetery. Between 1862 and 1870 almost 300,000 Union dead were laid to rest in 73 national cemeteries. The graves of soldiers who served in the Confederate states army were subsequently marked at public cost by a distinctive marble slab.

This precedent was applied without question to the Spanish-American War, the Philippine Insurrection and the North China Expedition. The government further assumed another obligation in bringing back the dead from distant theaters of war.

The return of World War I remains culminated with the entombment of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery on November 11, 1921.

Of approximately 79,000 War I fatalities, 46,520 were shipped to the United States. Of 360,812 World War II fatalities, 281,857 were recovered. Of those recovered, slightly more than 96% were identified. The unknown dead in World War II number about 8,000. About 171,000 bodies were shipped to the U.S. and about 3,500 were shipped to next of kin in foreign countries for private burial.

Of the 36,922 American fatalities in the Korean Conflict, 28,730 were returned to the U.S. Today the U.S. government affords perpetual care for approximately 850,000 graves of its military dead.

The sound 'I' has 22 different spellings in such words as eye, aisle, buy, by, style, choir and island.

David Klunk, Eighth Grader of St. Aloysius School, Littlestown, and a Gettysburg Times paper carrier, was presented an award by the Hanover Council 871, Knights of Columbus, at the annual altar boy award program. The program was held at St. Joseph School, Hanover. The award was a crucifix with the inscription "Outstanding Altar Boy, 1965, presented by Hanover K. of C." David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Klunk, 370 E. King St., Littlestown.

Nations Shy From Expelling Tunisia

CAIRO (AP)—The 12 other nations of the Arab League shied away from expelling Tunisia from their ranks Thursday. Instead they denounced Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba's statements advocating coexistence between Israel and the Arab states.

The Conference of Arab Government Leaders unanimously adopted a Sudanese resolution denouncing Bourguiba's proposals as "deviation from Arab solidarity and violation of the Arab obligation to liberate the Arab world from Zionist imperialism in Palestine."

Cub Pack Holds Fishing Contest

Cub Pack 163 of Two Taverns held a monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Dan Deitrich in the form of a fishing contest. Larry Fowler won the awards for the largest and the smallest fish caught and Tom McGlaughlin got the prize for catching the largest number. A wiener roast followed the contest. Approximately 70 parents and Cubs attended.

Plans were made for the Cubs to march in the Memorial Day parade here on Sunday. They will meet in dress uniform on Springs Ave. at 1:30 p.m. Their next meeting will be held June 22 at 7 o'clock at St. Luke's Church, near Bonneauville.

MOSCOW (AP)—Izvestia says the American movie "The Magnificent Seven" has corrupted Soviet youth.

The government newspaper reported that two young boys in Smolensk stole rifles from a museum and later told police they wanted to look like the heroes of the American Western.

An Eighth Grade boy repeatedly attacked girls and stole their money after seeing the movie, Izvestia said.

CHURCH FIGHTS FOR SURVIVAL IN BUDAPEST

By PRESTON GROVER

BUDAPEST (AP) — The Catholic Church in Hungary has not given up the struggle against communism and Church officials feel it is not doing too badly.

"We are a Catholic Church in a Socialist state and the tide runs against us for that reason," says Msgr. Zarakonyi, spokesman for Catholic Action here, "but it is up to the priests to preserve the balance, so far as they can."

Catholic Action occupies a good-sized group of offices in a well-constructed building on the "Pest" side of Budapest; on the left bank of the Danube. It has its own sign on the outer wall of the building and there is a lot of going and coming. The Church doesn't consider all is lost. It has lost a lot, of course, including most of its wealth.

SCHOOLS REDUCED

By an agreement of 1950, signed under Communist pressure, the number of church schools was cut from 100 to 86 for boys and 2 for girls.

Msgr. Zarakonyi said it was hard to persuade young men to study for the clergy. The few who do are not meeting current needs, he said, "so if this level persists, we must count on a steadily aging clergy."

Zarakonyi is not the only one to report a kind of lassitude among the young people of Hungary. The Communist party says it is becoming more difficult to recruit young members and party membership is becoming older and older. Zarakonyi attributes it to a sort of existentialism — a refusal to accept responsibility for the general welfare. The youth of Hungary, he says, are resisting an organized life.

ONLY 40,000 JEWS

Some 70 per cent of the Hungarian population is inscribed as Catholic, mostly Roman but some Greek. Another 25 per cent is Calvinist or Lutheran. Jews, before the war numbering over 300,000, now are fewer than 40,000.

Zarakonyi didn't discuss one of the persistent problems in Hungary, the presence of Cardinal Jozsef Mindszenty, in asylum in the American legation for the past nine years. It is a major problem, but both the church officials and the government feel it is somewhat bypassed.

The cardinal, now 73, refuses to leave unless he is recognized as head of the Hungarian church. The government won't Tolerate no uncleanness," wrote young Ben Franklin in his copybook. A man of his word, Ambassador Franklin imported the first real bathtub from France to the United States. Now our bathing facilities are marvelous, exported around the world.

What's more, a daily bath has become the foremost cleanliness ritual. As nothing else will, a plunge cleanses and deodorizes the body. There's protection for the skin and health in tubs of suds, too. Germs, and the skin is loaded with them, are routed by scrub-ups.

As a secondary aid to freshness, deodorant products are indispensable. Their number grows, and it could be that a woman who does not have one of each type has too few. Let's consider the possibilities:

- Antiperspirants. These are formulated to check perspiration in the underarm area. (Maximum efficiency depends on clean, fuff-free skin.)
- Deodorants. Included in this group are products for underarm use; body powders, foot powders, bath soaps and rubdown colognes. All aim to check odor, now flow. It's accomplished via antiseptics that retard the growth of odor-causing bacteria.
- Hypoallergenic deodorants. Underarm products, designed for allergy-prone and hypersensitive skin.

3 MEN TO BE GIVEN MEDALS FOR HEROISM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Pennsylvania men, who worked for 2½ hours under extremely dangerous conditions to rescue a trapped miner will receive gold medals for heroism.

The three William Helena, 37, of Forty Fort; Frank Dian Driole 55, of Avoca, and Clair S. Sigworth, 54, of Kingston—will receive the medals from the Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association.

Helena, Diandrole and Sigworth rescued Peter Byczkowski of Plymouth from the Franklin Colliery lost Dec. 21, when a supporting wall of the mine collapsed. Byczkowski's brother-in-law, Lawrence Malachuk, 37, also of Plymouth, was killed in the mishap.

MINE CAVED IN

Four hours after Byczkowski was rescued, the whole passage-way caved in.

Sigworth is a federal coal mine inspector, Helena is a miner at Lehigh Valley Anthracite, Inc. and Diandrole is assistant foreman at the mine.

The safety association was formed in 1916 by 24 leading national organizations in the mineral industry to perpetuate the safety efforts of Joseph A. Holmes, the first director of the Bureau of Mines.

The interior department announced the awards Thursday. Seven other miners from other states will also be honored.

— is being built by Kaiser and Kaiser and Reynolds will take most of its production.

The smelter was contracted for several years ago and virtually is the only expansion by private industry in Ghana at present.

President Kwame Nkrumah has counted on additional private industry to take advantage of the plentiful electric power but one foreign businessman says:

FINISHED ON SCHEDULE

"There is a real danger that the Volta Dam could become something of a white elephant unless the government sees fit to change its attitude toward private business."

Ghana's strenuous efforts to industrialize and modernize her agricultural economy plus a sharp drop in world cocoa prices have brought the country near bankruptcy. Cocoa accounts for 65 per cent of export earnings.

This condition, plus Nkrumah's statements such as "The surest road to the welfare and happiness of the people lies in socialism," have discouraged private investment.

The dam itself was finished on schedule in February and work on the generating equipment is nearing completion. The first electricity is expected to flow in September.

Blast Everglades To Reach Water

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The stillness of the Florida Everglades is being broken by the boom of explosives probing the bone-dry soil for water.

Demolition crews from Homestead Air Force Base were called in Thursday in an effort to reach water needed by wildlife in Everglades National Park, where only three-tenths of an inch of rain has fallen since March 4.

Park rangers say there is a great danger of fire in the vast, grassy hinterland which makes up most of the southern tip of the Florida Peninsula.

They hope blasting may locate subsurface water in the normally swampy area.

Claims Medics Miffed Over Small Pay Boost, Wage "Heal In" Drive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A county official says resident physicians and interns at Los Angeles County General Hospital, miffed by a pay raise of less than $10 a month, are flooding the huge facility with patients.

He says the doctors are calling it a "heal in."

County Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, who said the protest was described to his office Thursday, called it "a deliberate plan to disrupt good hospital service."

Hahn said the strategy among the 200 interns and 350 physicians was to admit as many patients as possible and at the same time, retain patients longer than normally would be the case.

NO COMMENT

Dr. Richard Boggs, president of the intern-resident protest group, declined to discuss the situation with newsmen.

Hospital administrators said there was a 25 per cent increase in admissions Thursday and a 40 per cent drop in discharges. But county officials said steps were being taken by administrative officials to forestall the effort. They termed the campaign "curbed."

Hahn said a delegation from the Interns and Residents Association visited his office and announced that a "heal in" was in progress.

LARGE FACILITY

The 3,300-bed facility is one of the largest general hospitals in the nation.

Dr. William Evans, the hospital's medical director, said the protest group promised "that nothing will be done which interferes with the best care available to patients."

The doctors had asked for a flat rate of $400 monthly for interns and a sliding scale for resident physicians rising over a five-year period from $510 to $713 a month.

But under a salary ordinance approved Thursday, interns will get $330 to start and $337 after six months of service — plus room and board. Resident physicians, starting July 1, will receive from $435 to $645 a month.

LIBERTY BELL MODEL GOES TO FAIRGROUNDS

By PAUL ZDINAK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Orange beams jut out of the ground at the New York's Fair and a model of the Liberty Bell sits nearby.

This is Pennsylvania's toehold on a permanent exhibit at the World's Fair, now in its second season.

The pavilion, being built without cost to Pennsylvania taxpayers, will be opened June 13, the start of Pennsylvania week at the fair.

Footing the bill is a group called the 100,000 Pennsylvanians for the Promotion of Economic Growth.

SPECIAL TRAINS

This organization sponsored a special train which brought the 2,500-pound bell, crack and all, from Philadelphia Thursday. Going along for the ride were 80 Pennsylvanians including several state officials.

Just as Pennsylvania Lt. Gov. Raymond P. Shafer prepared to speak, a sudden downpour drenched the spectators.

SHAHER SPEAKS

But they stood their ground and Shafer, speaking from under an umbrella, said:

"It is fitting that Pennsylvania's exhibit at the New York World's Fair be a replica of the bell that signalled the start of the dynamic, noble experiment, still going on, that is the United States of America."

Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs said: "As a Pennsylvanian I am certainly proud we will at last have an exhibit at the fair."

CAST DUPLICATE

The 100,000 Pennsylvanians have asked about taking the actual bell to the fair, but the caretakers of the relic feared damage might occur over such a trip.

So the promotion group arranged for a foundry in France to cast a duplicate. An airline flew it over, free of charge.

The 100,000's plan to donate the bell to the Pennsylvania state museum in Harrisburg, after the fair closes.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Roy,
As a neighbor and citizen of this community, I feel I must say what I am sure has been in the minds of many people these past few days.

The tragedy of the little Yingling boy drowning in the motel pool has shaken us all. Looking over there now, a board fence is now being quickly constructed. Isn't it too bad tragedy has to strike before action is taken? For about two years this pool has been without a fence and often no life guard on duty.

As a citizen, I feel something should be done to assure the protection of our children concerning all pools, private or business, in this town.

Let's wake up and do something before another family is heart-broken.

Sincerely,
A CONCERNED MOTHER

RAIN AND HAIL STRIKE STATE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A wave of spring thunderstorms, occasionally violent, swept over portions of eastern Pennsylvania Thursday.

Trees were blown over, utility lines snapped and some highways were flooded. Hail fell in some places.

In Philadelphia the wind blew over an electric substation in center city. Wind gusts up to 46 miles an hour were reported and the wall of a building under construction also was blown over.

In Lancaster, the winds tore the roof off an airplane hanger. Two planes were picked up and hurled about 30 feet in the air, damaging them.

High winds and hailstones pounded the Reading area and some parts of the city and suburbs were without electricity for a while.

An underground auto passway in Reading was temporarily flooded, trapping some motorists. Some had to wade to safety.

Wind and lightning was reported at Coatesville.

STATE SEEKS BIDS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Department of Forests and Waters said today it would open bids June 10 for a conduit painting project at Little Pine Creek Dam, Lycoming county.

The project calls for sand-blasting and painting about 3,500 square feet of a steel outlet conduit with coal tar enamel.

LONG ISLAND HONORS YOUNG GRAVETENDERS

OYSTER BAY, N.Y. (AP) — Year after year, Pierre Coret, 15, and his sister, Odile, 14, had taken care of the grave in France of President Theodore Roosevelt's son Quentin, who was killed in action during World War I.

Quentin Roosevelt was killed near Coulonges-en-Tardenois, where the Corets lived until a few years ago. Since they were young children and until they moved to Soissons-Aisne, Pierre and Odile had kept the grave free of weeds and full of flowers.

They did it, they said, because they wanted to show their appreciation for all that American troops had done for France in two world wars.

SPONSORED TRIP

This Long Island community, where Theodore Roosevelt once resided, wanted to show its appreciation to Pierre and Odile.

The community raised $1,600 for expenses and brought the French teen-agers here for a three-month visit.

They arrived by plane Wednesday and will stay alternately with three families, including that of Principal Richard Nodell of Oyster Bay High School. Odile is currently staying with the Nodells, who have two children, Dorothy, 17, and Richard, 12.

"They're one of the loveliest pairs of youngsters I've ever come across," Nodell said today of his visitors. "They both have a terrific sense of humor."

TASTE HOT DOGS

One of their big thrills came Wednesday night when they got their first taste of an American hot dog at a barbecue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Jones, where Odile will stay later.

A big Memorial Day weekend is in store for Pierre and Odile. Sunday they will place a wreath on the original headstone of Quentin Roosevelt's grave. The grave has been moved to a large military cemetery in France, but the headstone was brought to his father's home, now a national shrine at Sagamore Hill.

On Monday, Pierre and Odile will be the guests of honor at Oyster Bay's Memorial Day parade.

Use your electric blender when you want to puree fresh fruit. If raspberries, fresh or frozen are pureed you will have to take an additional step and put the mix through a very fine sieve to remove the seeds.

PA. SENATE IS FILLED WITH '66 PROSPECTS

By VINCENT P. CAROCCI
HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Senate of 1965 has some striking political resemblances to the U.S. Senate of 1960.

For just as the U.S. Senate then was filled with potential prospects for president, so does the state Senate now have its wealth of prospects for statewide office — governor or lieutenant governor, particularly in 1966.

This similarity in political potentials is most striking on the Republican side.

Remember Richard Nixon, then vice president, presiding officer of the Senate and heir apparent to the party's presidential nomination?

What about the Democrats? In Washington five years ago, you found Sens. John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson, Hubert Humphrey, and Stuart Symington.

3 OFFICES UP
In Harrisburg, you find Sens. Robert P. Casey of Lackawanna County; Leonard C. Stasey of Allegheny, and William G. Sessler of Erie.

While the field in either party certainly is not limited to these men, their names are among those that crop up frequently in conversations about the 1966 statewide tickets.

Three offices will be up for election next year: governor and lieutenant governor, of course, plus secretary of internal affairs.

The most notable difference in the political atmosphere between the national and state capitals now and then is the attitude of the men whose names were being mentioned.

PLAYING CAUTIONOUSLY
While the men in Washington made little effort to conceal their ambition, the men in Harrisburg are playing it a bit more cautiously.

Take Shafer, 48, who served one term in the Senate before his election as lieutenant governor.

When a reporter mentioned the similarity between his position now and that of Nixon five years ago, the lieutenant governor quipped: "Well, let's not carry the analogy much further."

HE'S FLATTERED
McGregor, who will be 31 in September, will be completing his first full term when the 1966 election rolls around. Asked about the future, he replied:

"I'm flattered by having been mentioned in some quarters. However, my present political plans are to run for re-election to the Senate."

Casey, 33, also will be completing his first term as a state senator next year.

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—President Chung Hee Park returned Thursday after a 10-day visit to the United States. He said his discussions with Washington officials showed there were "no major differences between the views of U.S. leaders and myself."

Comedy Playing At Allenberry

An excellent cast of five is presenting "Mary, Mary," a comedy by Jean Kerr, at the Allenberry Playhouse this week and next.

Nancy Chesny, making her debut at the Boiling Springs theater, does an excellent job with dry wit in the role of Mary. She is an attractive girl and, with Jim Oyster, this year's leading man, playing her almost-divorced husband, Bob McKellaway, they go through the excellent dialogue of the play with understanding and sparkle. Jim has a very funny scene in the third act when he takes sleeping pills by mistake.

Versatile Don Draper handles well the role of the family lawyer who is trying to straighten out the couple's income tax problems. Reginald Rowland Jr., convincingly plays Dirk Winston, an actor friend. Jean Lindgren, in her second play at Allenberry, makes a pretty "Tiffany Richards" whose plans to marry Bob go astray at the last minute. She has a sprightly manner on stage and handles her lines well.

The action of the play takes place in the living room of Bob's New York apartment. A sudden blizzard, cutting off transportation, is responsible for solving the marital difficulties of Mary and Bob. This is a cleverly written play and while it deals with adult situations it has many funny angles that would have general appeal.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Throughout his life, Dr. George Washington Carver walked hand in hand with God. Born of slave parents, he became a pioneer of agricultural research and helped rebuild the agriculture of the South. In a laboratory he called "God's little workshop," he never started an experiment or handled a plant without murmuring a prayer for understanding and help. He often said, "Wonders will be revealed to you if you stay in contact with God." And through his faith he proved this for he found 300 uses for the lowly unused peanut and 150 uses for the sweet potato. He developed hundreds of dyes from plants and colors from Alabama clay, for he was a painter and artist of talent. He turned down many offers of great sums of money and stayed at Tuskegee to help the farmers, both colored and white. The life of George Washington Carver is a permanent testimony to the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

Gains of fractions to about a point prevailed among many key stocks but there was also a liberal assortment of losers. The list was mixed in early trading and began to move ahead cautiously later in the morning.

Caution prevailed because of the Memorial Day weekend. The market will be closed Monday.

GETTYSBURG IN TRAVEL GUIDE
OF MAGAZINE

The June issue of Better Homes and Gardens includes Gettysburg in its feature "Highlights of the Historic East."

The feature is divided into tours to include "Massachusetts: From the Pilgrims to Paul Revere"; "Washington: City of Decision"; "Connecticut Coast: Whaling Ships and Nuclear Subs"; "Judson Valley: Majestic Hills and a Momentous Past," and "Philadelphia: Birthplace of Our Independence."

The Gettysburg tour is included in the Washington section with a map showing Gettysburg's proximity to the nation's capitol, Baltimore, Harpers Ferry, Antietam and Frederick.

The articles describes the area as:

"Four famous Civil War landmarks lie within easy driving distance to the west and north of Washington. Gettysburg, just north of the Pennsylvania line, is the most important. . . To get a clear picture of the momentous events that took place here, start your tour at the Visitor Center and see the 12-minute orientation slide lecture, the museum and the famous 358-foot Cyclorama. Then go to the Gettysburg National Museum to see battle relics and a half-hour recreation of the three-day fight on an electric map. Now you are ready for the battlefield tour. You can use the 25-cent National Park Service handbook, hire a licensed guide, go on special buses equipped with tapes of battle sounds and Raymond Massey's narration or hire a three-hour tape for your car. On many tours, you'll pass President Eisenhower's farm."

OIL SWINDLER IS GIVEN TEN YEARS IN PEN

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Anthony (Tino) DeAngelis was sentenced to 10 years in federal prison today for his part in one of history's biggest commercial frauds — a multimillion-dollar vegetable oil swindle that rocked Wall Street.

He was sentenced under a new federal law, however, which could make him eligible for parole after serving three months in prison.

DeAngelis, 49, a former Bronx N.Y., butcher, listened impassively as Federal Judge Reynier J. Wortendyke passed sentence. Wortendyke levied the maximum sentences of 10 years on each of three charges of circulating forged warehouse receipts and 5 years on one charge of conspiracy to circulate forged receipts, but he ruled the sentences were to run concurrently. This meant a maximum of 10 years in prison.

Before passing sentence, the judge told DeAngelis: "You did not intentionally set out to deprive anyone of a dollar." Wortendyke said he did not believe any of the fraudulently obtained money had been used for DeAngelis' personal purposes, but had been sunk into his vegetable oil business.

Study Low Cost
Of Election Race

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Political campaign financing is under study in Kentucky—and may be liberalized at the next session of the Legislature.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt has named a committee to study the present limitation of $10,000 on campaign expenses in governor's races.

Breathitt said the law is circumvented by fragmenting expenses among a number of committees. Besides, he says, the limit is unreasonable in this mechanized age.

Thief Is Trapped
By His Honesty

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—When pawnbroker Clarence Rosenstein found his portable television set at home missing, along with $40 in cash he took another look at the set he had taken in for $4 at his shop a few hours earlier. Turned out to be his own.

Charles Walter Burkes, 32, unaware he was pawning the pawnbroker's own set, had given Rosenstein his correct name and address. He was jailed on burglary charges.

Kentucky Drivers
Get Second Chance

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky's Public Safety Department is going to give some errant drivers a break, provided they're willing to go to school.

The state's driver point system requires six-month suspension of a motorist's driving privilege if he accumulates 12 points in three years.

A new program will permit drivers who have collected from seven to 11 points to go to a driver training school and shave off three of the points by completing it.

SCHOOLBOY, 15, WRITES ABOUT ISLAND REVOLT

TELEGRAPH EDITORS:
When rebellion erupted in the Dominican Republic on April 24 among others caught in its terror was Bill Stroh, a 15-year-old boy who, until three years ago, lived in the Greencastle, Pa., area. Bill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Stroh, left Santo Domingo only hours before the revolution rolled over the Latin American island, but Bill stayed behind to finish school before joining his parents in Georgetown, British Guiana, where his father is the new controller at the U. S. Agency for International Development. The following is taken from his account of the revolution sent to his friends in Greencastle.

GREENCASLE, Pa. (AP)—"I saw Mom and Dad off to Georgetown at the Santo Domingo airport early Saturday morning, April 24. I went with the family with whom I was staying to do the Saturday morning shopping and then to visit another AID family.

"While we were visiting, we got our first warning of the nightmare to follow.

"Two wild voices broke into a radio program and started shouting that the president of the Dominican Republic had been overthrown.

SAW PLANES DIVING

"From the porch of the house where I was staying, we saw several Dominican Air Force planes diving and shooting near the palace. We could hear guns shooting throughout the day and night.

"The American embassy told all Americans to stay off the streets and to remain in their homes as rioting and shooting had broken out in the city.

"On Sunday there was more bombing of the palace and shooting. The embassy advised Americans to pack one suitcase and many Americans began moving out of danger areas to stay with friends.

A special dance was presented by Bill Coradetti, Jeff Tuckey, Phil Houck, Danny Wycoff, Renee Nyce, Bev Rouzer, Shelly Shillito, Nancy Hale, Brenda Helsley and Suzi Smith. The Junior class advisor, Mrs. Grace Sheely, was in general charge of the dance attended by more than 300.

Yale Graduates Pick Chinese Ode

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The Yale senior class ode is going to be in Chinese this year, instead of the traditional Latin or Greek.

Its author is Richard G. Fabian of Dallas, Tex., who majored in Chinese studies. Fabian submitted his poem when he heard there was a dearth of entries.

The class ode is declaimed by its author at class day ceremonies each year.

Fabian describes his offering as a "nature poem" in two stanzas, utilizing seven-syllable verse.

Centenarian Is Allowed Jaywalk

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge refused to fine Thomas H. Carter on a jaywalking charge. Municipal Judge Jerry Pacht, noting that Carter will be 100 next Nov. 27, told him Wednesday: "At the age of 99, you are entitled to one free jaywalk from this court. The fine is suspended."

David Dubinsky Is Given Award

NEW YORK (AP)—David Dubinsky, 73, president of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, AFL-CIO, was honored Wednesday night by the American Council for Nationalities Service.

Dubinsky received the organization's "Golden Door" award presented annually to honor Americans of foreign birth who have made distinguished contributions to American life and culture. He was born in Poland on Feb. 22, 1892, and came to the United States in 1911.

Bill was taken to San Juan, Puerto Rico, and finally, a week later, was reunited with his parents in Georgetown.

GARBAGE BIZ GOOD; WOMEN LOSE WEIGHT

SARANAC, Mich. (AP)—Two Michigan housewives have found an unexpected reward in a new business venture. They're not only making money with their garbage truck, they're losing weight.

Iva Bennett, 30, and her sister, Dorothy Chase, 42, have been operating a garbage and rubbish pickup service in this southwest Michigan town of 1,100 since last fall.

When they started Mrs. Chase weighed 176 pounds.

"Now I'm down to 159 and Iva went from 185 in September to 175 now," said Mrs. Chase.

Three years ago Mrs. Chase and her husband, Harold, took over Charles Miller's refuse route while he was hospitalized.

BUY BUSINESS

"We told him that if the time ever came when he wanted to get rid of it, we'd take it," says Mrs. Chase. The time came.

The project includes yard-work, hauling sand and gravel, moving, housecleaning — or what have you.

The sisters' original truck was a 1949 model. When it started acting its age, Mrs. Chase overhauled the motor with an assist-

Utility Company Admits Mistake

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Pacific Gas & Electric Co. has demonstrated to its financial pain that it's willing to take a second look at a bill and correct a mistake.

A PG&E refund draft for $60,684.32 was handed over Wednesday to the happy customer, the San Francisco Port Authority, which operates San Francisco Harbor.

The utility said it recently discovered it installed a too-fast meter nine years ago at the port's ferry building.

from her husband, who is a mechanic.

"He gave me a new truck for Christmas," she says.

The garbage route is the sisters' project, but Chase has volunteered for heavy lifting. Bennett is tied up with his job at a grain elevator.

In their work week, which recently has become a seven-day schedule, the sisters put about 40 miles per day on the truck. Mrs. Chase, a resident of Ionia, travels an extra 18-mile round trip daily between home and work.

The sisters average hauling three loads a day to the Saranac dump. They charge a flat fee, but extra work may mean extra pay.

"I kind of like the work," said Mrs. Bennett. "It gives me a chance to get outside."

"STOP" ORDER IS OVERRULED

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state Supreme Court today overruled a decision of the Delaware County Court to stop pupils in the Chester Township school district from attending the Chester City High School.

The court, in opening the city school to township pupils, based its opinion on the 1949 Public School Code which says "pupils residing in a school district in which no public high school is maintained may attend . . . the nearest or most conveniently located high school."

The case stems from a resolution of the Chester City school directors Oct. 29, 1963, not to admit any outside students after June 1964.

The Chester Township School District and its 199 high school pupils appealed to Delaware County Court, claiming township students have been going to Chester High School for 41 years.

Judge John V. Diggins ruled that the township's 10th, 11th and 12th grade students could remain at the school for the 1964-65 school year, but the 9th grade students had to be dispersed to schools in other localities. Status of the students for next year was not determined.

The American Kennel Club was founded in 1884.

Yeehaw Junction Gets Courthouse

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Weary of clamoring among rival cities for a new district court of appeal, a committee of the Florida House settled on Yeehaw Junction, an outpost of civilization in the wilds of Okeechobee County.

If the legislature goes along with the committee, a state courthouse could be added to the two restaurants, filling station and truck stop on the Yeehaw Junction skyline.

But this is unlikely.

The committee chairman, Rep. Lawton Chiles, said the bill was voted out Wednesday only to end bickering among West Palm Beach, Vero Beach and Fort Pierce for the court headquarters and allow the decision to be made on the floor.

Rebel Students May Aid Nation

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Norman Topping, president of the University of Southern California, sees hope for the future in student protests of the current decade.

He told an audience Wednesday that such students may be "better citizens in the long run" than their goldfish-swallowing, panty-raiding predecessors.

WOULD DOWN RACE BARRIERS

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (AP)—Eastern Pennsylvania Lutherans have been urged to support civil rights, integrated congregations, and open housing, by the annual convention of the Eastern Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutherans to participate in Ne-

The delegates Wednesday encouraged Lutherans to remain in congregations where "major racial shifts are taking place," and to include all persons in their communities "without distinction to race, color, national origin, economic status, or previous religious experience."

Earlier, delegates adopted a resolution supporting open housing, and asked church members to welcome newcomers to their neighborhoods "in christian love, and to invite them to participate in community affairs, regardless of race or creed."

The Rev. Paul Hoh, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church in Reading, and Democratic assemblyman in the state legislature, called for "radical sacrifices" in helping Negroes to gain better housing and to encourage white Lutherans to participate in Negro congregations.

Delegates also approved an appropriation of $79,400 for the Philadelphia center-city parish, which coordinates the ministry of 19 churches within the city.

Retired Paperhanger To Decline British Title; 'No Money, Can't Swim'

By GEORGE W. WILBUR
WINCHESTER, Va. (AP) — A retired paperhanger says he'll pass up one of the oldest titles in British aristocracy because he 'hasn't any money and can't swim.'

Newlon D'Arcy Wyvill, 69, expressed little surprise when told that Debreth's, Britain's directory of the aristocracy, indicated he is the rightful owner of the country's 10th most senior baronetcy.

"To me it don't mean a thing," the small camera-shy Wyvill said. "We've known the title was over there. If there were a few million dollars attached to it, I'd be very happy. Outside of that, no."

"VERY PROUD"
"Naturally I'm very proud," he said. "It wouldn't be worth the time and expense to pursue claim to the title because I don't think there's any money over there," he said.

Debreth's, in its latest edition Wednesday, said that Wyvill is a descendant of Sir Richard Wyvill, Sir Richard was slain at the Battle of Tewkesbury in 1471 during the Wars of the Roses.

Sir Marmaduke Wyvill of Constable, Yorkshire, was the last recognized baronet of the Wyvill family, Debreth's said. He died in 1774, survived by a cousin whose father emigrated to America during the reign of George II.

TRACED FAMILY
Debreth's said its researchers had traced this family to Newlon D'Arcy Wyvill.

Wyvill said his grandfather and his father were interested in the title, but his grandfather died before he could travel to England and his father "was just about like me. He didn't have any money and he couldn't swim."

Wyvill said he hadn't given much thought to how it would feel to be a baronet.

"I don't know," he said. "I never did have anyone wait on me. I've done all my work myself." He could call himself Sir Newlon if he proved his right to the title.

Wyvill said he had conflicting information on whether any property is involved in the baronetcy.

Wyvill said he's content to enjoy his retirement here with his wife. He offered to sell the title to a reporter for $1.

Seeks Aid To Curb Foreign Dollar Flow

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor says he plans to ask an additional 3,000 companies to help curtail the flow of U.S. dollars abroad.

The response from some 500 companies which had been asked to give a balance sheet of their international operations "can only be described as magnificent," Connor said Wednesday night.

Connor made the remarks before the Harvard Business School Club of New York, which honored him with its annual Statesman Award.

British Laborites Win By One Vote

LONDON (AP)—Britain's embattled Labor government escaped defeat in the House of Commons early Thursday by only one vote.

When all members are present, the Laborites have a three-vote margin. But a number of members were absent for the session Wednesday night.

Throughout the night the government won a series of votes on clauses in its omnibus finance bill by razor-edge margins. Finally the margin dropped to one vote — 153-152 — and Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan moved for adjournment of the session.

HUMPHREY IN JOVIAL MOOD ON BIRTHDAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice-president Hubert H. Humphrey turned 54 Thursday and in honor of the occasion he did not make a speech.

This in itself, for a man who has been making two or three a day, would set the date apart. But, of course, he may change his mind.

The Humphrey calendar calls for a staff party and attendance by the vice president and Mrs. Humphrey at a White House reception for congressional assistants.

After the reception, resident Johnson may have some surprises of his own for the vice-president.

AT RECEPTION

Humphrey joked with newsmen at a White House military reception Wednesday night and wouldn't admit he's turning 54. He told everything else about himself: his shirt size, neck 16½, sleeve 34; height, 5 feet, 11½ inches; waist, 38 inches; shoe 9½. But not his age.

He prefers everyone to think he's 37, even though the records show that he was born 54 years ago — on May 27, 1911, in Wallace, S.D.

Asked how he planned to celebrate his birthday, he said, "by work." And, "I'm going to call up my mother and congratulate her."

IN JOVIAL MOOD

Humphrey was in a jovial mood after he stood in the receiving line along with the Johnsons.

The vice-president was called on to pose for pictures and someone suggested that he and his wife kiss. Mrs. Humphrey protested with a smile and said: "I don't like kissing."

"Yes, she does," said her husband amid general laughter.

Mrs. Humphrey then corrected her statement to: "I like to kiss, but I don't like kissing pictures."

Social Security

Q. I'm a grocer, small-time — wouldn't think of retiring, even though I turned 65 in January. My wife has been after me, though, to apply for my social security now, even though I'm not going to stop working yet. She says the husband of one of her friends did that, and he's getting social security and working, too! Can I do that?

A. Very possibly, you can. You might be eligible for some benefits, in spite of the fact that you continue to work. You have nothing to lose — and, maybe, a good deal to gain — by coming to the social security office and filing your claim for benefits now instead of waiting until you retire.

Q. If I don't want to retire, can I get my social security anyway? I heard something about this the other day, and was just wondering.

A. If you are 65 or older, it's a good idea to at least apply for your social security now. You may be eligible for some of your benefits, even though you haven't really retired. Or, when you do decide to retire, you can be sure of getting your first check without delay. You can speed things up further, too, by taking proof of your age with you when you go to the social security office.

Q. I'm past retirement age, and planning for my retirement within the next year. Is there any way I can find out how much my social security will be?

A. Yes, there's a very good way. Go to the social security office (with proof of your age), and file an application for benefits. Even if you cannot start getting your social security immediately, you can make sure what the benefits will be, and can avoid delay when you do retire.

Public Ponders Promise Of Prolonged Youth; Some Prefer To Age Naturally

By GEORGE ESPER

NEW YORK (AP) — A variety of reaction ranging from "great," to "contrary to nature," and "highly unlikely" came today from both young and old after a pathologist suggested that science might someday delay the aging process.

Dr. Robert R. Kohn, a pathologist at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, says "there's no theoretical reason why we should not be able to keep people as they are at age 20 to 30 for another 40 years."

"Assuming society would want it," added Kohn. He offered the theory that aging is a normal disease and conceivably susceptible to being inhibited by chemical or other means.

TORRE WANTS YOUTH

Some indicated they would want it, such as baseball catcher Joe Torre, 24, of the Milwaukee Braves, who said, "It would be great," and Harold Lloyd, a comedian who starred in the silent-picture era, who remarked, "I'm all for it."

Others indicated they would prefer to let nature take its own course.

Marilyn Wahl, 21, a Los Angeles airline stewardess, said: "I don't think I'd like it. There are rewards in growing older and maturing. There're pros and cons — growing old with your children and enjoying some of the things they do. But there's something wonderful about maturing. Being twice as long, the 20-to-30 age bracket wouldn't be quite as enjoyable."

"CONTRARY TO NATURE"

A Dallas lawyer who is approaching 80 said, "There is no need to speculate about remaining 20 to 30. That is contrary to nature, the Bible and the Lord's decree."

Ann Bittner, 47, a Chicago television assembly-line supervisor, and Dr. Bonnie Strickland, 26, dean of women at Emory University, reacted differently.

"I think people from 20 to 30 are dying faster than older folks or they soon will be," said Mrs. Bittner. "The reason is they live too fast. Bad diets and carelessness with their health in general puts them in bad shape. Why make more people get into bad shape by keeping them at a careless age?"

Dr. Strickland, one of the youngest women deans in the country, said prolonging life between the ages of 20 and 30 "would be wonderful — if you were able to continually mature."

"Youth without wisdom and knowledge would have no advantage," she added.

Dr. John Knowles, 39, general director and physician at the Massachusetts General Hospital and lecturer at the Harvard Medical School, opined: "The process of aging and death is inexorable and inevitable."

CITES SUICIDE

Bill Ingram, 21, a Dallas college student, said he would like to stay 20 forever, but "some people can't cope with life and probably prefer death — look at the suicides."

Ingram said he agreed with a statement by Dr. Bernice L. Neugarten, of the University of Chicago, who said: "The assumption is unproven that people would like to live longer than they now do — or that they would be better off if they did."

Drs. Neugarten and Kohn made their comments Wednesday in Washington at a conference on research progress and trends in aging sponsored by the National Institutes of Health.

Kohn defined aging as "a normal biological process with onset sometime around maturity." He suggested it's primarily due to progressive changes in "col-

LE MY, South Viet Nam (AP) — Fifty yards from the hand-laid rock road some natives were digging graves.

On the edge of the road on straw mats lay those for whom the graves were being dug. They were the bodies of the last two diehard guerrillas in the village of Le My.

"After they wounded one of our men yesterday" explained a U.S. Marine laconically "we cornered them in a house. They hid under a trapdoor. One of our fellows tossed in a grenade — and that did it."

HOUR OF VICTORY

It was an hour of sweet victory for Clement and his men.

They had just completed a simple but colorful ceremony with local village officials during which they had reopened to traffic two bridges blown up by the Viet Cong.

The burying of the two slain enemy and the reopening of the repaired bridges doubly demonstrated that the key village of Le My had been made secure.

To Lt. Col. Clement, nicknamed "The Great Pacificator," it meant the solution of his biggest problem since he and his 1,000 men landed here early in April. The pacification of the area around the vital Da Nang air base had been a key task assigned to the U.S. Marines.

The Marines suffered a number of casualties in the village. It would have been easy for them to have razed it but this isn't that kind of a war.

The village finally was cleared by a delicate program of grenades for the enemy and good will gestures toward the general population.

Clement, a raw-boned man who weighs 200 pounds and stands three inches over six feet, is a 1945 Annapolis graduate who won a Silver Star as a company commander in Korea. He has six children ranging in age from 18 down to 6.

SON OF MARINE

He was born with a Marine brand on him. His father was the late famed three-star Marine Gen. William T. Clement, one of the most popular officers the corps ever produced.

In six weeks here, Col. Clement's battalion has worked through a 48-square-mile area. "Some of it is still hostile and

Autobahn Traffic To Berlin Slowed

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP) — Autobahn traffic through the East German border to Berlin was slowed this morning, West German customs officials reported.

It was not clear whether the slowdown was because of road repairs, German holiday traffic or as a protest by the East German Communist regime against the presence of West German politicians in West Berlin for the visit of Queen Elizabeth II.

A border official said cars were backed up nearly half a mile at the Helmstedt checkpoint.

Border officials in Berlin reported no slowdown and said traffic was moving normally. But they said traffic was heavier than normal due to the Ascension Day holiday.

QUEEN FLIES 110 MILES EAST OF RED CURTAIN

By JOHN O. KOEHLER
BERLIN (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II flew 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain Thursday to West Berlin. East Germany claimed that West German agents were planning "terrorist attacks" on the Berlin wall during her 5½-hour visit.

The queen's 22-mile route through the city took her past the barbed wire-topped wall, but there were no plans for her to stop at it. British officials said this was done to spare her any anti-Western posters such as the East Germans put up for President Kennedy's visit to the wall in June, 1963.

The East German Radio asserted that "terrorists" of the West German intelligence service run by Gen. Reinhard Gehlen were planning "provocations" against the border of the (East) German Democratic Republic.

CHARGE VIOLATION

The broadcast also charged that West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's flight to West Berlin Wednesday night aboard a U.S. Air Force plane to greet the queen was a violation of East German air space.

East Germany's Red government said a month ago it had no objection to the queen's visit to West Berlin. But this week the East German Foreign Office accused Erhard, by coming to meet her, of trying to "use the visit as an aggressive demonstration" of West Germany's claims to West Berlin.

British, West German and West Berlin authorities ignored the Communists.

INSPECT TROOPS

The East Germans did not object to the queen's visit because officially she came to inspect British troops who with American and French soldiers make up West Berlin's Allied garrison. But West Berliners viewed her coming as an expression of British solidarity with them and arranged a big welcome.

It was Elizabeth's first flight over Communist territory in her 12-year reign. During the 15 minutes her Royal Air Force turbo-prop plane was over East Germany, radar observers spotted a number of unidentified planes in the air corridor she used. But none appeared to come close to the royal plane.

One West Berlin newspaper said Elizabeth's visit would rank with Kennedy's among the most important events in Berlin's postwar history.

Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, landed at the British military airport in the suburb of Gatow. They were welcomed by West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt and Chancellor Erhard.

GIVEN WELCOME

Elizabeth's visit to West Berlin was the climax of her state visit to West Germany, which began May 18 and ends when she sails for home Friday aboard the royal yacht Britannia. She is the first British monarch to visit Germany in 52 years.

For 10 days now Elizabeth has been the center of the former enemy nation's attention. Newspapers publish pages of pictures and stories about her daily. Television stations show hour-long segments of her tour in live broadcasts. Thousands of Germans turn out to cheer wherever she goes.

For many Germans the royal visit is the final pardon after two world wars as Britain's enemy. They hope that this act of grace will soften anti-German feelings which have been more harshly and frequently expressed in England than in any other former enemy country in the West.

MARK ANNIVERSARY
NEW DELHI (AP) — India marked the first anniversary Thursday of Jawaharlal Nehru's death with pre-dawn mourning ceremonies and fear for the future.

There remain many problems and the "unspeakable poverty of the Indian masses," the national newspaper The Statesman said in an editorial.

There were 1,058 conventions in New York City last year.

ASSIGN WHITE TO SPACE WALK IN JUNE 3 SHOT

By HAROLD R. WILLIAMS
AP Aerospace Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Strolling through space at 17,500 miles per hour about 100 miles above the earth could be hard work for any astronaut.

The man who is scheduled to take such a walk June 3 is ready for it.

Edward H. White II officially got the assignment Tuesday from Dr. Robert R. Gilruth, Manned Spacecraft Center director.

10-MINUTE "WALK"

The 34-year-old Air Force major will climb out of his Gemini-4 spacecraft over Guaymas, Mexico, during the second orbit, and cavort through space for about 10 to 12 minutes before he climbs back into the cabin over the Florida coast.

The daring feat will be one of two firsts for the United States, the longest mission — four days — and the first astronaut to leave his cramped spaceship to venture into space.

Soviet cosmonaut Alexei Leonov was the first human to leave his spaceship. He somersaulted before European television cameras March 18.

NO TV SHOTS

No television cameras will watch White. His flight partner, command pilot James A. McDivitt 35, will take pictures through the spacecraft's windows. The entire exercise will take about 22 minutes.

White is in superb physical condition. "He could run the mile, fight a 10-round boxing match, swim 20 miles and do about anything that would require physical endurance," said Dr. Charles Berry, physician in charge of astronauts' health.

PAID FOR JOB

A friend asked White why he wanted to leave the spacecraft to go into space.

White answered, "That's what I get paid for." The San Antonio, Tex., native, who is six feet tall and weighs 171 pounds, has practiced leaving and re-entering the spacecraft 110 times in pressure chambers and juring weightless flying in a KC13T airplane at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio.

Special equipment developed for the stroll has been qualified to withstand micrometeorites and the harsh rays of the sun, Gilruth said.

The average American uses about 25 pounds of soap a year.

Photographs of the following Seniors of Littlestown High School were not available: Lanny Alwine, James Blocher, John Burgoon, Larry Conover, Carol Cromer, Robert Ferrebee, Edward Ferris, David Gladfelter, Mary Lowe, Beverly King, Anne Mayers, Kathie Moomaw, Arthur Redding, Lowell Ruggles, Ray Sager, Dale Starry, Philip Study, David Thomas, Karl Brown and Douglas Ingram.

CAT RECEIVES A LOT OF MAIL

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Julian St. Philip lounged carelessly in his ivy and old-brick French quarter patio today. He was waiting for the postman.

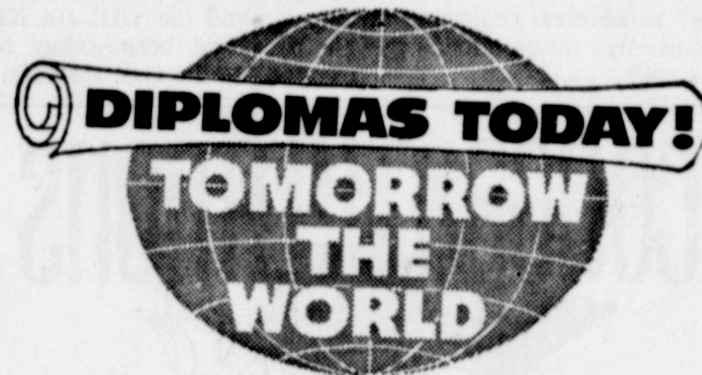

The postman brings a lot for Julian. Magazines, enticing brochures, books, credit cards from loan companies, pleas from charitable organizations, advertisements.

The flow still amazes Julian's mistress, a handsome blonde who drives a sporty car.

Julian is her cat. He is not a common cat. He is a yellow-eyed Persian of rare silver coloring. He weighs about 20 pounds, which is a lot of cat. He will drink only from a whisky sour glass. But he can't read any better than an alley tabby. Reader or not, Julian must be on almost all the mailing lists which circulate to national advertisers, solicitors and business firms.

It started innocently enough. "I decided that new subscribers to magazines get a cheaper rate," said Miss Katherine Evans. "My initial subscriptions were about to expire. Instead of renewing, I sent in Julian's name."

WEeping AND WAiling
Idealists Are Often Blind To Facts
LBJ's Diplomacy Unfairly Criticized

IN SANTO DOMINGO the dust is beginning to settle. The second guesses, the isolationists, and the crowd who always think America is wrong are mauling their usual walls and lamentations.

The sack-cloth and ashes of idealistic humiliation are their order of the day.

The One Worlders grieve that the whole thing was not first debated and a consensus of justice and action achieved in and by the United Nations.

Has the U.N., in Council or Assembly, ever discussed any problem in terms of justice? Of course not. Every debate and vote has revolved around power, potential power, or lack of the same.

Has the U.N. ever arrived at a consensus of action? Never. And when a too long delayed action has been predicated upon a wide majority, the dissenters have taken recourse to sabotage tactics. In high dudgeon they have refused to pay their share of the costs.

In the light of that record, why should President Johnson invite disastrous delays by going to the U.N.?

THOSE WHO APOLOGIZE

for the Monroe Doctrine and think we can substitute an Organization of American States Doctrine for it, complain that President Johnson ignored the O.A.S. Permanent Council.

This has created such antagonisms, they further complain that America is about to lose control of the O.A.S.

These sad lamentations are supported by neither the spirit nor the record of the O.A.S. Permanent Council.

How could America lose a control that it never had?

Indeed, there are so many negative provisions and dead-lock clauses in the charter of the O.A.S. that it cannot control itself. It was incapable of positive action toward the Dominican crisis had it so desired. It was a situation wherein someone had to ignore it to get the organization off dead center.

President Johnson's prompt and highly creditable action has had that effect.

RATHER THAN GO out of existence, the O.A.S. is now becoming a constructive, practical and cooperative role in the solution of this and in similar future problems.

By adopting this cooperative role, by sending officers and men from Brazil and lesser Latin American countries, is not the O.A.S. actually approving everything that L. B. J. did and thereby putting themselves on record as approving the formula against future threats?

And such threats are just around the corner. Take a quick look at Bolivia.

In truth, America appears to be more in control of the O.A.S. now than it ever previously dreamed of being. It is a mere matter of days, if not hours until the Communist bloc in the U.N. will be denouncing the O.A.S. as a creature of American imperialism.

This should answer the anguished wail that America's unilateral action in Domingo has caused United States to lose cooperation from and influence in the O.A.S.

THE COST in money and lives is always a plaintive sound among the critics.

South Viet Nam would be costing United States considerable money even were there no hostilities. Look at our overseas spending where there are no disorders!

Thus far, and for future American personnel in the Dominican Republic, the money cost there has been negligible. All those soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines were on the payroll anyway. Rations and support costs are little if any higher there than at home stations. When the fire wagons roar down the street toward a major conflagration, does anyone complain that they are wasting the people's money?

No, they merely say: "I hope none of those nice fire fighters get hurt, but I suppose they have to earn their money sooner or later."

As for getting hurt, as many Americans will be killed and wounded on the highways, streets, recreation parks, and lakes this long Decoration Day weekend as have been killed and wounded in Viet Nam and Santo Domingo since the former affair started nearly four years ago!

Last week a lieutenant at Trux Field asked, in writing, for Viet Nam duty. His commanding officer said: "I'll forward it if you insist, but it may raise a question of cowardice in your personnel file. An officer of real courage would stay at his post of duty here, and face death with the rest of us in this vacation time traffic!"

464,000 HIKE INCOME OVER $3,000 MARK

By ADREN COOPER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approximately 464,000 American families took a giant step last year. Their income edged over the $3,000 mark — and out of what the administration defines as the "poverty bracket."

At the happier end of the scale, a Census Bureau report today also showed, the number of families with incomes of $10,000 or more increased by 1.4 million.

And the median — middle — income increased too from $6,249 to $6,569. That's a 5-per cent jump from 1963 and 57-per cent from 1954. Prices also rose, though, so the increase in purchasing power was only a per cent.

The median income is the exact middle income for the 47.8 million American families. That is, half of them are below that level and half above.

OTHER BRACKETS

Some 17.6 per cent of American families, or 8.4 million, had incomes below $3,000 compared to 18.5 per cent in 1963. Almost 32 per cent had incomes below $3,000 in 1954.

Some 10,800,000 families had incomes of $10,000 or more in 1964. This represented 22 per cent compared to 20 per cent in 1963 and less than 6 per cent in 1954.

Johnson Walks To Smithsonian

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was talking Wednesday to Dillon Ripley, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, about possible uses of the historic old Court of Claims Building when he decided they should go and inspect it.

More than one out of every 20 families had incomes of at least $15,000 compared to one out of 100 in 1954.

The median income of Negro families was $5,814 compared to $7,720 for whites. Thirty-seven per cent of Negro families were below the poverty line while 15.4 per cent of white families were in that category. Only 8.3 per cent of Negro families had incomes above $10,000.

So Johnson, Ripley and a White House aide strode out of the building, across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House at 17th Street.

Police stopped rush-hour traffic for Johnson and his companions to cross against the light.

Hands in pockets, the President attracted only slight attention during the 15-minute outing. At one point he stopped to shake hands with some youngsters in an automobile.

Democrats Block Racial Privilege

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of a bill to forbid states from banning union-shop agreements have succeeded for the present in blocking an effort to include in it a rider to make union racial discrimination an unfair labor practice.

Leading Democrats on the House Education and Labor Committee decided to block the rider, planned by the committee chairman, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., by pushing separate legislation aimed at discrimination in unions.

ized the FBI to ask Congress for $10 million needed to modernize and expand the academy's facilities at the Marine base in Quantico, Va.

Hoover and Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach discussed the plan Wednesday in talks to the 100 graduates of the academy's 75th class.

Sermon For The Week

By DR. M. R. HAMSHER
Supply Pastor
Zion Lutheran Church, Fairfield
OUR MEMORIALS

A tourist stopped a local citizen on a Gettysburg street to inquire: "Where is the battlefield?" The local man's response was soon interrupted by the tourist's exclamation: "Oh, I don't like to look at gravestones anyway! What's the nearest route to Hagerstown and the West?" Was this visitor just another restless American in a hurry? Or did he take for granted the blessings purchased for our people at so terrible a price?

In assemblies of church and state there may be submitted a declaration of fact and faith to which a petition is attached. That is to say — a "memorial" may be a prayer. In the tabernacle worship, the ephod of Aaron, the priest, had onyx stones on each shoulder, and on these stones were engraved the names of the twelve tribes.

The onyx stones were called "a memorial before the Lord continually." Can any American truly honor the nation's heroes unless he reveres Almighty God with prayer for His guidance and praise for His blessings?

A "MEMORIAL"
The stones Joshua set up to commemorate his people's entrance into the promised land were primarily a "memorial" to the good and merciful Lord, who guided them and empowered them to fulfill His purpose. It is still true in America that God is able and willing to help those who trust Him.

America's memorial to Lincoln at Washington is an inspiration. Let it move us to a whole-hearted devotion to the attainment of the goals he set: A united nation and the true freedom of all our people.

MANCHESTER, Mass. (AP) — Joseph Clark Grew, 84, a veteran career diplomat who was U.S. ambassador to Japan in the period preceding Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, died Tuesday. Before his appointment to Japan in 1932 Grew had served in many diplomatic posts and attended numerous peace conferences after World War I.

NOON by the Chapel Clock

One . . . two . . . three.

Four years Connie and I have listened to that deep, resonant chime counting off the hours of our college days. Sometimes it was just part of the setting at State — like the Commons, and the Quad, and Moonlight Walk. But often it called us to high moments of worship and thought and prayer.

Four . . . five . . . six.

Today we pause, and count! Exams are over. Trunks are packed. Books are on their way back to the Library. Tomorrow — Commencement.

Seven . . . eight . . . nine.

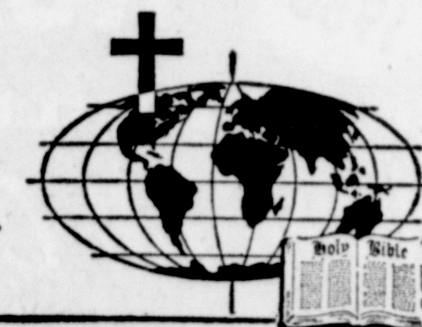

Again we're reading each other's thoughts. Let's walk once more through that graceful arch, hand-in-hand and smiling. Let's kneel together in the sacred stillness, breathing our thanks . . . our hopes . . . our needs . . . our dreams. For life and love await us. And these we will share with God! It is Noon by the Chapel Clock.

Ten . . . eleven . . . twelve.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's successes so far have been just the opposite of those of Presidents Kennedy and Eisenhower whose most notable achievements were in foreign affairs.

There Johnson has run into frustrations in the two places where he has made his biggest pitch: Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. He has been far more successful than Kennedy or Eisenhower in dealing with Congress.

Kennedy dumped programs on Congress but never pushed for them as Johnson has. Eisenhower's domestic record might have looked truly dismal if he had not had a cooperative Democratic Congress to help him.

Of the three men, Eisenhower

by far had the worst time starting out. He inherited the Korean War and McCarthyism, and both were at their peak when he took office.

He got a truce in Korea and, after some bad months with Sen. Joseph McCarthy, the Wisconsin Communist-hunter was eliminated as a problem by the Senate which pushed McCarthy into limbo.

It was rather calm for Kennedy, starting out, but he created a disaster for himself in no time by backing a Cuban invasion which never got beyond the beaches. This was the worst mistake in Kennedy's presidency.

WAS HIGHLY RESPECTED

He made up for it: by forcing the Russians to pull their missiles out of Cuba, getting them to sign a limited nuclear test-ban treaty and creating the best relations with them since the cold war began.

By the time of his death in 1963 Kennedy was a highly respected figure around the world. But his record with Congress remained unimpressive.

Eisenhower did a few spectacular things, which turned out well for him, in foreign affairs. By being tough he stopped the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt, although doing nothing when the Soviet Union crushed the Hungarian revolt.

SERVED LEBANON

He put on a show of force, which worked, by sending ships and troops to save friendly Lebanon from being overrun by Communists or Egyptians; he discouraged the Red Chinese from trying to take Formosa; and in 1955 he held his celebrated summit conference which got much attention and accomplished little.

It was perhaps no accident that Kennedy's inaugural address in 1961 dwelled almost entirely on foreign problems, making domestic ones secondary.

Johnson's inaugural last January, not nearly so well written as Kennedy's, was a bit of a mishmash, weaving back and forth between domestic and foreign affairs, full of pious aspirations, saying not much concretely on anything.

In 14 months in office following Kennedy's assassination and before he took the oath of office for his own full four-year term, Johnson set a blazing record with Congress and continued it this year.

INHERITED A WAR

His foreign dealings in those first 14 months were hardly more than an exchange of pleasantries. He concentrated on the home scene and the 1964 presidential race.

It was after his inaugural that he really moved into the foreign field, where his experience was least, although he, too, had inherited a war, the one in Viet Nam, where Americans were not supposed to be directly involved although that was a myth.

When Viet Cong guerrillas blasted a U.S. air base Johnson put this country fully into the war by ordering the bombing of North Viet Nam, apparently with the idea it would bring the Communists to the conference table, if not to their knees, to talk about an armistice.

It has had apparently no effect on them, although he has kept up the bombing since last Feb. 7, with the exception of six days. While there is no end in sight it will get immeasurably worse if the Soviet Union or Red China move in.

Then, when the Dominican Republic's revolution began, Johnson put the United States wholesale into the problem to stop, as he said, the Communists from capturing the country. Since then his administration has been giving out word the Communists there are no longer a menace.

Johnson's aides have been trying to get both sides to agree to a coalition government. This has been a frustrating ordeal by itself, and even if a coalition government is set up it may not last long for the Dominicans seem split into factions, groups, and even individual hatreds.

Restore Commander To Copresidency

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The ruling military junta has restored its armed forces commander to the copresidency of Bolivia following his negotiation of the truce that ended a week of bloody fighting between the army and rebellious tin miners.

Gen. Alfredo Ovando returned to the post he shared briefly with Lt. Gen. Rene Barrientos last November after the overthrow of President Victor Paz Estenssoro. Public demonstrations forced Ovando to step down, leaving Barrientos in the presidency.

A few mines resumed work Wednesday, but most of them were still idle.

Hordes Of Beetles Cause Accidents

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A blanket of black beetles, which turned the pavement ick-slick under the wheels of cars, caused several multicausal accidents on an expressway Wednesday night but no injuries.

Police closed a three-mile stretch of the expressway because of the concentration of the inch-long beetles. Sand was spread over the pavement.

Police said the beetles, which appear mostly at night, have probably been forced out of low-lying areas by recent heavy rains in the area.

Climb In Food Prices Spurs New Debate Over Inflation Local Farmers Harvesting

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Most people can be fairly indifferent to a rise in the price of food. But let the price of food go up and the debate over the possibility of another burst of inflation commands instant attention.

And that debate is warming up.

The climb in food prices can be traced to several things: weather damage to crops, shortages of temporary farm laborers, cutbacks in cattle herds and the hog population, and greater consumption by a growing and affluent population. Even though they command the most attention, the ups and downs of food prices are a fairly common phenomenon.

INDUSTRIAL PRICES RISE

What's raising the question of inflation in general is the steady if slow rise in industrial prices in many fields. And this is feeding the debate over whether the economy is or isn't in danger of overheating.

Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, says it isn't, so far. But he finds the recent rash of price increases disturbing and warns they might lead to government countermeasures if business doesn't moderate the trend voluntarily.

This would be in line with the government's guidelines for prices and wages tied to productivity gains that keep unit production costs stable.

CLOSE TO OVERHEATING

William McChesney Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, warns that the economy is close to the edge of overheating and fiscal authorities must watch that trend carefully.

By overheating the authorities mean the step that turns business expansion into a boom. The four-year-old expansion has meant greater prosperity without excesses either in price increases or wage boosts.

Boom implies a rush of overconfidence that carries with it a wage-price spiral. In the past this has undermined the market value of the dollar. And boom also implies a future bust.

The debate over inflation goes beyond the industrial price increases which Ackley says seems to be accelerating. He lists tires, stainless steel products, sulfuric acid, trucks, paper containers, polyethylene resins, aluminum products, copper, and fabricated copper products.

NO LABOR SHORTAGES

And pointing a finger at business pricing policies, Ackley sees no evidence that excess demand is furnishing any inflationary pressure. Nor are labor shortages plaguing most industries.

The inflation debate goes also into the government's fiscal policies. And this may be why federal officials are becoming so vocal in denying that overheating is a threat. On the contrary, they contend, a relaxing of the upward rate of climb is more likely.

FISCAL POLICIES

The fiscal policies include tax cuts even while the federal debt is rising and the Treasury deficit continues each year. They also include keeping interest rates low and credit easy so that economic expansion can be financed. And along with it goes a rise in spending by federal, state and local governments.

Past thinking held such policies to be laying the foundation for future inflation. Present fiscal thinking is that these policies make the economy grow fast enough to offset any such threat. Basically the question is the role of government in plotting and controlling economic trends.

But at the practical rather than the theoretical—that is, for the consumer rather than the economist or monetary authority—the threat of inflation doesn't lie in the rise of prices of sulfuric acid and polyethylene resins, but in costlier trips to the food stores.

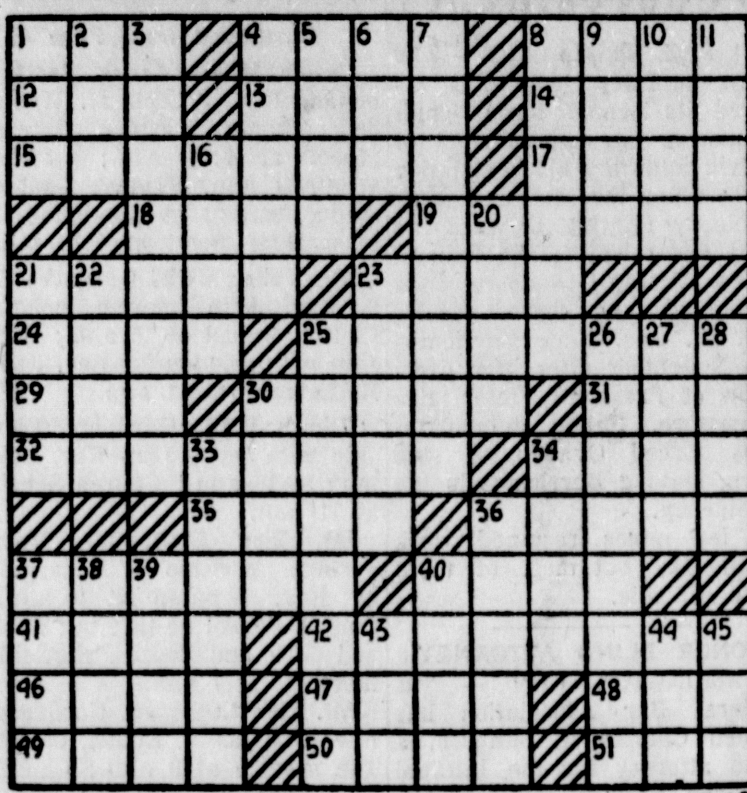

Wants Networks In Giant Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — David Sarnoff, board chairman of the Radio Corp. of America, suggests the United States' six giant communications companies pool their international operations under one privately owned firm.

The electronics pioneer told the Armed Forces Communication and Electronics Association in a speech Wednesday such a unified company would simplify relationships with COMSAT, the government-established private satellite company.

And he said it would enable the United States to deal on an equal footing with foreign government communications monopolies.

HORROR ROLE FOR HUDSON; BAKER RESTS

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene—

Rock Hudson continues his escape from the bedroom farces. His next film will be "Seconds," which he describes as a horror picture. But not the Vincent Price variety, it should be added: this one will stress psychological horror. It is being directed by John Frankenheimer, the young suspense master who made "The Manchurian Candidate" and "Seven Days in May."

Carroll Baker wasn't too exhausted after finishing "Harlow" to toss a wing-ding party at her house. Between dances she commented that the film was the toughest she has tackled. And not only because of the virus that kept her out of the picture for two weeks.

"It was the first time I have done a picture that was glamorous and heavily dramatic," she said. "That meant two or three hours of being made up and then going into emotional scenes all day."

RIVIERA REST

Carroll's reward for her labors: Three months' rest on the Riviera. Harlow never had it so good.

There will be a Fonda reunion on the sands of Malibu this summer. Jane has a house at the beach while she's shooting "The Chase." When papa Henry finishes "Battle of the Bulge" in Spain, he'll take a house a few doors away that Jane rented for him. He'll bring his 10-year-old daughter, whom Jane hasn't seen in two years. Also, son Peter and his family will be nearby.

Gene Kelly hopes to direct a new "Beau Geste" as his next film; he has done spectacular musicals but never a real spectacle. The project is now in the hands of the Universal bigwigs, who are deciding whether to make the $6 million outlay.

"I want to do it right or not at all," said Gene. "That means shooting it in the Sahara with thousands of Arabs."
